A Memory of 'The 10th Man'

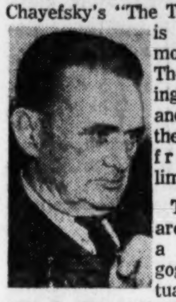
First play closed by the Equity strike in New York was Paddy Chayefsky's "The Tenth Man." It is a unique and moving drama. There is warming comedy in it, and satire with the bite and freshness of limes.



The three acts are confined to a poor synagogue which actually is a converted shop. At the audience's left is a small, partitioned office for the rabbi. A small raised platform contains a lectern and the Holy Ark. Plain, wooden, folding chairs constitute the seating arrangement for the congregation.

The season is winter, the time is 6:30 a.m. Old men begin to drift in, warming their hands at the small electric heater. The time for morning prayers is approaching. And, for prayers it is necessary to have at least 10 men.

The mood of the play quickly is established. The old men come because they are old and lonely and must live with their children. Some of them reflect, with the humor of overstatement, tensions between themselves and their daughters-in-law. There is a crisis. Foreman, one of the regulars, can't come. His granddaughter, a mentally disturbed young girl, is to be returned to an institution. But, suddenly, Foreman does arrive. With him is a distracted girl of 18.

Exorcism

The play's action begins to move toward one of the most arresting climaxes in modern theatrical history. The old man, who deeply loves his granddaughter, is convinced she is possessed of a dybbuk . . . a demon, or evil spirit. He wants a service of exorcism.

There lurks in all of us enough of the ancient past to make the rite of exorcism seem not entirely a relic of superstition. Christians know that the Nazarene cast out, or exorcised, devils. The primitive Christian church included exorcists. There was always a priest skilled in the elaborate ritual of casting out evil spirits. In our time we are coming to know the mind is a great and wonderful force.

There is in the development of the play, a search for a famous rabbi, known for his research into the mysteries, and also for a tenth man so that prayers may be had. He is what might be called a disturbed Madison avenue type, divorced and in a great state of nerves after having been on a long drinking bout. He is utterly without religious sensitivity.

The play moves dramatically and enchantingly toward the exorcism. The young, go-getter rabbi participates with some reluctance. "I am not quite sure of my rabbinical position. But it would please me a great deal to believe once again in a God of dybbuks."

Ceremony

The exorcism is most compelling. The Cabalist speaks:

"Sexton, light the candles." (The sexton lights each man's candle. The Cabalist advances slowly to the girl, who stands slackly, her body making small, occasional jerking movements, apparently in a schizophrenic state. The Cabalist slowly draws a line in front of the girl with the flat of his toe. He speaks quietly.) "Dybbuk, I draw this line beyond which you may not come . . . Open the ark . . . Dybbuk, you are in the presence of God and His Holy Scrolls. I plead with you one last time to leave the body of this girl (there is no answer). Then I will invoke the curse of excommunication upon your pitiable soul. Sexton, blow Tekiah." (The sexton raises his ram's horn to his lips, and the eerie, frightening tones shrill out.)

There is an exorcism.

"Yes, I have a hunger for life . . . God of my fathers, you have exorcised all truth as I knew it out of me. You have taken away my reason and definition. Give me then a desire to wake in the morning, a passion for the things of life, a pleasure in work, a purpose to sorrow . . . Give me all of these things in one—give me the ability to love."

This is a play to see, simple, powerful, and good. And, if one cannot see it, it reads well.

RIVAL REPUBLICANS EAT CAKE WITH BRITISH PRINCE

Friendly Nixon, Rockefeller Join Prince Philip at Exhibit

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Nixon and Gov. Rockefeller put aside their political differences Friday long enough for a smiling, handshaking get-together at a British trade exhibit.

"Hi ya, feller," one observer quoted Rockefeller as saying at his first meeting with Nixon since they exchanged verbal jabs over the course of the Republican party.

They even joined harmoniously in singing "Happy Birthday to You" to Prince Philip, who officially opened the exhibition on his 39th birthday.

They made good-natured references to their political rift in their speeches in the opening ceremonies. Then they strolled amiably together on a 90-minute tour of the exhibits with Philip.

The close harmony came at the last stop of the tour—an exhibit fitted out as the Victorian lounge of the Red Lion Inn.

Hobbie Jean Morton, known as the red-haired Queen of the Barmaids, poured beer for a birthday toast to Philip.

"To sort of break the ice, I started to sing 'Happy Birthday, Dear Duke,' and everybody joined in right away," said Hobbie Jean, a buxom Cockney who has been pouring for 40 years.

Nixon and Rockefeller met for the first time since last fall in an anteroom of the Coliseum, home of the exhibit.

The vice president had arrived first at the glass-paneled, curtain-draped anteroom, after driving from the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel with Prince Philip in his Rolls-Royce convertible.

Gov. and Mrs. Rockefeller arrived a short time later.

Nixon strode over and extended his hand. Rockefeller grasped

Webb Asks Review of Jones Case

The State Court of Appeals has been asked to vacate its decision reversing the embracery conviction of H. Candler Jones because less than a majority of the court rendered it.

The contention was made in a motion for a rehearing filed by Fulton County Sol. Gen. Paul Webb in which he asked the court to set aside its ruling and reconsider the case.

Webb claimed in the motion that the reversal decision—in which the court threw out the 1959 conviction of Jones on a charge of attempting to influence a grand jury foreman—was invalid because it was rendered by only three of the Court of Appeals judges instead of four. There are seven judges on the court.

The solicitor also claimed in a 16-page document filed with the court that the court overlooked oral testimony in the trial record which indicated that Jones had not abandoned the idea of influencing the foreman, Edward Westlake.

In an opinion written by Judge B. C. Gardner, the court reversed Jones' Fulton Superior Court conviction on the grounds that he was entrapped into attempting to buy off the grand jury investigation of his dealings with the state government.

The opinion criticized the solici-

Cook Asks Leasing Of Oil in Sections

Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook, a member of the State Mineral Leasing Commission, said Friday he thinks any oil drilling leases the state grants on its offshore territory should be on a block by block, or "checkerboard," basis.

Cook implied agreement with a number of Chatham County leaders who have recently urged rejection of all three bids submitted for the drilling rights.

Cook also emphasized that the views he expressed Friday reflect his "present thinking."

He said he currently is of the opinion that the commission ought to:

1. Grant leases on blocks of offshore territory a few at a time, not all at once nor to any one company.

2. Give "more serious consideration" to the matter of bonuses offered in the three bids already received, and.

3. In view of the recent U.S. Supreme Court ruling which gave Texas and Florida jurisdiction out to 10 miles from the shoreline, petition the Georgia congressional delegation to seek an amendment to present laws so that Georgia, and other states with a three-mile limit, would get a 10 mile limit.

Cook did not say he favored rejecting the present bids, but, presumably, in order to implement a "checkerboard" type of leasing and to increase the bonuses offered by bidding companies the bids would have to be resubmitted.

Roomer Slain Here; Police Hold Woman

By KEELER McCARTNEY

A 56-year-old manufacturing company employe was fatally shot Friday night, police said, and his landlady was held for investigation.

Edwin F. Brigman of 1097 Avondale Ave., SE, was struck in the face by a small⅜caliber pistol bullet, Sgt. J. E. Helms and Detective J. G. Adams said.

Mrs. Marie O. Bryant, 42, operator of a rooming house at that address, was held for investigation, officers said.

Officers said they were told four other persons roomed at the white frame cottage on Avondale avenue, near the State Patrol headquarters, but none was there at the time the shooting occurred.

Officers were told that Mrs. Bryant went to a drive-in restaurant on Memorial drive, SE, for

Byrd Rips Arnall As an 'Extremist'

By GENE BRITTON

Taking a swing at former Gov. Ellis Arnall, Lt. Gov. Garland Byrd said Friday the state would be better off if "extremists" did less talking and more cooperating.

Byrd, an unannounced candidate for governor in 1962, made his remarks in response to a television interview earlier this week in which Arnall, who describes himself as a "conditional" candidate, forecast the doom of the county unit system.

"The political predictions Gov. Arnall has made since 1946, with one or two exceptions, have been in error," Byrd observed.

Referring to a third potential candidate for the 1962 gubernatorial race, Arnall said former Gov. Marvin Griffin was adopting the "closed schools issue," while he, Arnall, would run on the "open schools issue" if the schools should be closed to prevent integration,

Byrd said Friday he knows of "no responsible state official who contemplates closing the schools in Georgia."

As for himself, Byrd said his "record has been clear during my

Reserve Bank Cutting Rate to 3½ Pct. Here

The Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta was authorized Friday to ease credit by cutting its charge on loans to commercial banks in the Southeast from 4 to 3½ per cent.

The half-point reduction in the discount rate here, effective Saturday, leaves only one of the nation's 12 district reserve banks—Boston—at the 4 per cent level.

The Federal Reserve Board first approved the cut a week ago in two districts, then on Thursday authorized eight other districts to follow suit.

Senators Ask Pledge Of Safety for Ike After Japanese Peril Hagerty

Helicopter Takes Him From Car

By GENE KRAMER

TOKYO (AP)—An angry leftist mob, screaming protests against President Eisenhower's visit to Japan, pinned down White House press secretary James C. Hagerty's car for 80 tense minutes Friday. He got away unhurt in a helicopter and announced Eisenhower will arrive as scheduled June 19.

Here to scout the Eisenhower route, Hagerty tried to take the road Eisenhower is scheduled to follow, from the airport to downtown Tokyo. With him were Douglas MacArthur II, the U. S. Ambassador to Japan; and Thomas E. Stephens, White House appointments secretary.

TIRES SLASHED

Ten thousand yelling demonstrators blocked the way and slashed the tires of the car. They threw stones and dirt, battered the car, and cracked its windows.

The demonstration climaxed a month of noisy protests against Eisenhower's visit, tied to leftist condemnation of Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's government and Japan's new military alliance with the United States.

Leftist student and labor groups had announced plans for the anti-Hagerty turnout but police declared they were caught by surprise and blundered. The Japanese government was quick to apologize.

SHOW OF STRENGTH

There was no question that the demonstration could have taken a far more serious turn. The idea apparently was to stage a show of strength in an effort to scare off Eisenhower, but to keep their emotional followers under restraint.

MacArthur traveled to the airport in a helicopter to avoid the waiting crowd. Hagerty had a chance to travel from the airport to Tokyo aboard one but he first turned it down.

Hagerty and Stephens arrived from Okinawa at 3 p. m.

$83 Million Voted For Spy Satellites

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Appropriations Committee approved a $40,384,897,000 defense spending bill Friday after tacking on last-minute funds to speed the Samos "spy-in-the-sky" satellite program.

The bill would give the armed forces $1,049,897,000 more than President Eisenhower's original budget, from which the administration later trimmed $20-million. It would provide $1,047,030,000 more than the House voted previously.

Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex), chairman of the Senate Space Committee, and Sen. John Stennis (D-Mass) led the successful drive for the Samos funds. The satellite eventually will take over intelligence

Recent fast-breaking developments in the story of Georgia's offshore oil possibilities will be discussed Saturday on the "Eyewitness" series on WSB-TV.

The program, sponsored by The Atlanta Constitution, will be seen at 6:45 p.m.

Constitution Editor Gene Patterson and State Capitol reporter Gene Britton will question Jack Nelson, Pulitzer prize-winning reporter, on his investigations into the oil story. Nelson visited other states this week preparing a series on how oil leases are being handled elsewhere.

Georgia Rights Panel to Get Job-Bias Data for U.S. Board

The Georgia Advisory Committee on Civil Rights agreed Friday to gather information on employment discrimination by state agencies for the U.S. Civil Rights Commission.

A request from Washington for information on Georgia's literacy test for voters was laid aside by the Georgia committee Friday pending word from the U.S. Civil Rights Commission on specific data needed.

Sylvan Meyer, chairman of the Georgia committee, said the request for information on the literacy test also called for statements from officials who administer the voting law. This would involve checking vote registrars in 159 counties.

Meyer commented that Washington offices of the commission had no conception of the monumental task involved in such a request. He said the commission would be asked if it wanted case histories on individuals who claim they have been discriminated against.

The Georgia committee has been confining its studies to three topics—voting, education and housing. Meyer told Friday's meeting the Civil Rights Commission is interested in two new fields—discriminating in employment and administration of justice .

The local committee voted to gather information on employment and administration of justice.

The local committee voted to gather information on employment discrimination by state agencies after Robert Thompson, Negro, representing the Atlanta Urban League, said few Negroes are employed in either state or federal government agencies in Georgia.

Thompson said the committee

Eisenhower Sticks to Trip Plans

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Several members of Congress called Friday for firm guarantees that the Japanese government can protect President Eisenhower from leftist mobs when he visits Japan next week.

They made the demands after the President let it be known that he intended to proceed with the trip despite the anti-Ike mobs which attacked White House press secretary James C. Hagerty and other U.S. officials at Tokyo Airport.

The demands came from Sens. Humphrey (D-Minn), Aiken (R-Vt) and Monroney (D-Okla), among others. All feared for the President's safety in view of the angry attack on Hagerty.

SETS OFF DEBATE

The President's decision to go ahead with the trip touched off a should-he-go-or-not debate in Washington.

A majority of Congressmen expressing an opinion said either that the decision was up to him or that he should go lest the United States "lose face" in the Orient by appearing to back down before the Reds. A few firmly opposed the trip.

TO LEAVE SUNDAY

The President's insistence on going reflected his belief that canceling the trip now would hand the Communists a propaganda victory and possibly destroy the anti-Communist front which the United States has so carefully built in the west Pacific.

Associate White House press secretary Anne Wheaton said the President "was concerned, of course" about the mob violence against his aides. But she refused to describe him as being alarmed. Eisenhower is scheduled to leave here at 8 a.m., EST, Sunday for Alaska on the first leg of the tour.

Senate Democratic leader Johnson said the President had the best information on the attack on Hagerty and must make the decision. He said he wouldn't presume to advise the President on a matter so definitely within his jurisdiction.

Aside from the trip, Johnson said the Tokyo Airport demonstration must be considered carefully as "another example of blind Communist fanaticism which presents such danger to free institutions."

Senate Republican leader Dirk-

U.S. Praises New Soviet Arms Offer

GENEVA (AP)—The United States paid tribute Friday to some "hopeful signs" in the new Soviet approach to the disarmament problem.

The tribute was coupled, however, with a firm warning that "the United States will not desert its friends and abandon its participation in the collective defense of the free world."

Assurance that the United States was not prepared to enter into any disarmament agreement that would jeopardize Western security arrangements was voiced by U.S. Ambassador Frederick M. Eaton in his first detailed comment on the new Soviet disarmament plan offered by Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Eaton told the 10-nation disarmament conference the new plan seemed to embody "encouraging modifications" of the Soviet attitude in four important areas:

1. It spelled out measures of disarmament control in greater detail, which "could be a welcome development if it means that the Soviet delegation is prepared to discuss in concrete terms the requirements for verification (control) of specific disarmament measures."

2. It included for the first time a provision for the study of the "cutoff" of production of fissionable materials for military uses. This too "could be an encouraging sign," but seemed to be tied in with a solution of the whole problem of nuclear disarmament.

3. The Soviet Union seems to have dropped its previous unrealistic position that general and complete disarmament must be completed within four years.

4. The U.S.S.R. seems to agree, at least in principle, on an international peace-keeping force.

The American delegate made it clear, however, that some of the basic provisions of the plan were totally unacceptable to the West.

"There seems to be lacking in the Soviet paper a balance within each stage of the various elements of military power," he said.

The West, he declared, can never agree to "the immediate abolition of the free world's major capabilities for protection against aggression." This, he said, was called for as the very first step of disarmament in the Soviet plan.

Ben-Gurion Appeals to Frondizi

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (UPI) — Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion urged Argentine President Arturo Frondizi Friday to recognize the "moral justification" behind the capture of Adolf Eichmann by Jewish commandos in Argentina.

Eichmann, a former Nazi S.S. colonel accused of plotting the deaths of 6,000,000 Jews, was secretly transferred to Israel, which plans to put him on trial.

PERSONAL LETTER

Ben-Gurion's appeal for understanding was made in a personal letter to Frondizi, the text of which was released by the presidential office Friday night. It was dated June 7, or the day before Argentina officially protested that the incident violated its rights as a sovereign state and demanded that Eichmann be returned here.

Ben-Gurion said he did not underestimate the "seriousness of the formal violation of Argentine laws" implied in the capture but added:

"I am sure only a few people in the world will be unable to understand the deep motivation and supreme moral justification."

'SUPREME MOTIVES'

Ben-Gurion said the capture of Eichmann after a 15-year worldwide search "cannot be judged from a merely formal point of view."

The Israeli premier said that while there is no doubt of the obligations of all countries to respect the laws and sovereignty of another, in this case "supreme motives" and deep feelings compelled those who found Eichmann to take him back to Israel "with his agreement."

There have been reports that Eichmann was kidnaped, drugged and bundled off to Israel. But Israel has denied this. Eichmann is now being held in an undisclosed prison in Israel awaiting trial.

Shortly before receiving Ben-Gurion's letter, Frondizi met with the Argentine ambassador to the United Nations, Mario Amadeo, who is scheduled to leave for New York Saturday. Argentina has said it would take the issue before the United Nations within a week unless Israel complied with its demand that Eichmann be returned.

Airline Crash Kills 29 in Australia

MACKAY, Australia (UPI) — A trans-Australian turbo-prop airliner, circling an airport in heavy fog waiting for it to clear, crashed into the Pacific Ocean Friday night and all 29 persons aboard, including a U.S. consul and another American, were feared to have perished.

The Americans were identified as J. F. O'Grady, consul for Queensland, and Vincent Bisson, of Boston, Mass. The body of O'Grady, 40, who is also believed to be a native of Massachusetts, was among the first to be recovered.

Bisson had been in Australia only a few months. His occupation was not immediately known.

The plane, a twin-enbined Fokker Friendship, was on a regular flight from Brisbane to Mackay with 25 passengers, including a number of holidaying school children. and a crew of four.

The Mackay airport was covered with dense fog when the plane radioed for landing instructions after the four-hour flight and the control tower ordered the pilot to circle until conditions improved. About 1½ hours later, when the fog had lifted, the control tower received no reply when it tried to contact the plane.

The wreckage was found Saturday morning in 35 feet of water about two miles south of Flat Top Island. The island is about five miles off the coast, almost directly opposite Mackay.

O'Grady, a career diplomat, joined the foreign service in 1942. He was stationed previously in New Delhi, Montreal, Damascus, Adelaide and Athens.

He opened the consulate in Brisbane in Jan. 1959. O'Grady leaves a wife and two children.

Reds Claim Misuse of Air Lanes

BERLIN (UPI) — Communist East Germany charged Friday that the United States is "misusing" West Berlin's vital air corridors to help build up the West German army and warned it could have serious results.

East German Deputy Foreign Minister Otto Winzer made the charge at a news conference, but he did not explain how the implied threat against Western air traffic to West Berlin might be carried out.

Winzer also said that spies working for West German intelligence chief Reinhold Gehlen frequently have been arrested in East Germany, but gave no details.

Had Nothing to Do with Blast On Arms Ship, U.S. Tells Cuba

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States has sent another stern protest to Cuba—the second in a week—condemning "baseless" and "offensive" accusations against this country by the Castro regime, the State department disclosed Friday.

The new note "strongly objected" to implications by Cuban Premier Castro that the United States had something to do with the explosion of a French munitions ship in Havana harbor March 4.

The protest called the insinuations "completely fallacious" and "offensive to the government of the United States of America." It said they were "unsubstantiated by evidence."

The note was delivered to Carlos Lechuga, Cuban ambassador to the Organization of American States on Wednesday. Lechuga has since left for Havana.

The United States last Saturday accused Castro's government of "slander" against the United States. The new note protested "continued dissemination of baseless charges" against this country.

The French ship La Coubre exploded in Havana while unloading its cargo. Castro, at funeral services for some of the victims, indicated he blamed the United States for the disaster.

On March 7, Secretary of State Herter called in Cuban envoy Enrique Patterson, denied the charges and protested Cuba's attitude.

Friday's note complained that Cuba has since distributed a pamphlet containing Castro's charges to all OAS delegations here.

Acting State Department press officer Francis W. Tully told reporters the United States "questions the propriety" of Cuba's using the OAS to distribute what he called propaganda.

France Hit By Strike of Civil Aides

Million Cripple Public Services

PARIS (AP)—French civil servants snarled this nation's daily life Friday with a 24-hour strike for more pay. The walkout, by more than a million workers, was a clear warning to the government that growing labor demonstrations could paralyze the country.

The strike halted or seriously disrupted mail service, marriages, burials, public schools, commercial plane flights, garbage collection, manual telephone service, customs inspection and many local and national government functions. Water pressure was down. Two out of three Paris sewer workers remained above gound.

TAKE TO STREETS

To bring their cause to the public eye, strikers in Paris and some provincial cities took to the streets to march, wave banners, sing, chant and boo Finance Minister Wilfred Baumgartner.

Between 10,000 and 15,000 strikers in the capital tramped half a mile down the Rue de Rivoli chanting "Raise our Salaries." They carried signs with the figures "45,000," indicating their demand for a 45,000 franc—$90 — minimum monthly wage.

Nurses in crisp uniforms, postmen on bicycles, telephone repairmen and office workers of all sorts paraded peacefully down the midcity artery, blocking traffic for more than an hour. In front of the Finance Ministy, located in the Louvre, the crowd halted briefly to boo and whistle.

STAND ASIDE

The marchers then made a halfhearted effort to press on to President de Gaulle's palace. A police official indicated heavy riot squad reserves standing by in side streets. The march leaders argued briefly, then stood aside.

The crowd, dampened by a shower, rolled up the banners and drifted away.

Mass meetings and parades were held in Nantes, La Rochelle, Metz, Bordeaux, Montpellier and Mulhouse.

At Mulhouse, several hundred strikers sat down in the streets and blocked traffic.

The strike was most effective among schoolteachers. An average of 90 per cent struck. In many cases, children of working mothers were cared for, even though formal classes were not held.

A FIRST FOR OUR SIDE

U.S. Missile Nails Rocket in Flight

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Army announced Friday that a Nike-Hercules anti-aircraft missile shot down a Corporal ballistic missile in an "experiment" over the White Sands, N.M., missile range a week ago.

The service called it the "first known kill of a guided ballistic missile by another missile."

It acknowledged, however, that the demonstration had "no direct relation" to the program for developing a missile that will be able to knock down intercontinental ballistic missiles.

Army officials refused to say how fast the Corporal missile was traveling, at what height it was intercepted and how far from the Nike-Hercules launching pad it was fired.

The Corporal, the first operational U.S. ballistic missile, has a maximum range of 80 miles, a maximum altitude of 26 miles and a speed of about 2,000 miles an hour.

Intercontinenal ballistic missiles travel seven to eight times as fast, measure their height in hundreds of miles and have ranges up to 9,000 miles.

The Army said the Nike-Hercules which downed the Corporal was an improved model featuring advances in the system's radars which detect, track and guide the air defense missile.

Team Frees Miner Held By Rock

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A miner, trapped 10 hours 100 feet below the surface, his right arm caught under a boulder, was rescued Friday.

A physician said Calvin Trevor Mellish, 42, Escondido, Calif., appeared to be in good condition considering his ordeal. The arm, at first feared crushed, did not appear to be broken.

Mellish had been tapped by a rock slide in the Tourmaline mine two miles north of Pala, a back-country mission community 50 miles northeast of San Diego. The slide pinned Mellish in a bent-over, standing position on a narrow ledge.

I AM OPPOSED
to serving liquor on commercial airlines. I think it should be stopped. In fact I do not feel that it should have ever been started. People who desire to do so can escape being exposed to the liquor traffic at work, home, school, church, at special activities, etc., but as passengers on airlines they are forced to be in the midst of constant liquor drinking. Drinks are offered to the social drinkers, alcoholics and non-drinkers whether they like it or not. All of this is done in the presence of our infants and youth who are also passengers, and the attitude seems that we must sell the liquor regardless of the influence upon our youth and where it may lead them. Another thing, do airline employees who promote the sale of liquor to passengers, do so because they wish to do so or because they are forced to sell liquor in order to keep their jobs?

YOU MINISTERS
who are so good with manifestos, how about one on airline liquor sales and other unwholesome community vice and evil that eats away morals of Americans, or could it be that you are not Christian enough or have guts enough to speak out against this wrong? HOW ABOUT IT PREACHER?

AND WHY
Would the President travel the Free World trying to bring about unity when during his administration there is more disunity in America than at any time during the 20th century?

I AM GLAD to see increased investigation into reported widespread prostitution activities in Atlanta. Just how far or high up will the investigation go and why are such vice drives put on (it seems) only after non-law enforcement agencies or citizens bring such wickedness to the attention of the public? Why not a constant drive to make Atlanta a better place to live?

GIRLS' GOVERNOR SIGNS GUEST BOOK
Rae Jean Haughton Later Took Over Job

Thomasville Girl Leads Teen State

By JACK STRONG

Rae Jean Houghton of Thomasville came to Atlanta and the state capitol for the first time Friday—as governor.

Ray Jean, 17-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Houghton, had been elected head of the mythical Girls State in the 15th annual session sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary.

She and 362 other girls from all over Georgia have been investigating the workings of city, county and state government since they invaded the University of Georgia Campus at Athens last Sunday.

Eleven chartered buses brought the students of government from Athens to Atlanta for the day's visit.

FROM MAINE

The dark-haired beauty, who up until four years ago called the state of Maine home, was elected on a clean government platform. She defeated Marthel Hooker of Macon, who became Secretary of the Senate.

Ray Jean also strongly urged economy in government saying that 1,700 justices of the peace in the state's 159 counties were too many. She pointed out that the state paid some 22,000 employes, not counting teachers. She asked for doubling of the highway patrol and for better highways.

The young women who heard her inaugural address Friday afternoon got right down to the business of legislation. The Girls State House passed a bill 36 to 9 in favor of local option for schools but the measure was as soundly defeated in the Senate.

OPPOSES LOCAL OPTION

Virginia Lee Durham, Albany senator, voted against the local option bill because under the present law "the governor will only close the schools that are intergrated," she said. Mary Dee Walker, Atlanta senator, said the people, not the governor, should decide whether their schools will be closed.

The Senate passed a bill which would allow school students to sell articles which would help service clubs and scholarships. The bill passed repealed one which prohibits such action now. Senators also voted to put a person's blood type on his driver's license, saying that such information might save the life of an injured driver. supervision of University of Georgia coaches.

Two outstanding citizens of Boys State will be selected by the staff to attend Boys Nation in Washington, D.C. Expenses for the two boys will be paid from the Boys State Fund.

Members of the administrative, counseling and recreational staffs will include approximately 30 men with outstanding backgrounds of training and experience in government and citizenship activities, administrative procedures and athletic programs. Included will be members of the Georgia General Assembly, several attorneys and leaders in city, county and state government.

dinner and met Brigman, who was discussing with a fellow employe the election of union officials at a refrigeration manufacturing plant.

Mrs. Bryant and Brigman returned to the Avondale avenue address, officers were told, and Brigman continued to discuss the union matter.

Mrs. Bryant said she told Brigman: "I'd rather not hear any more about it. I'd rather stuff cotton in my ears."

She said Brigman hurled his glasses against the wall, breaking them. She said she picked up the broken glasses, placed them on a table and then went to her room.

CAME TO ROOM

Brigman came to her room partially clothed, she was quoted, and she told him, "get out." Said she told police that Brigman refused and she picked up a .25-caliber automatic, which she believed to be empty.

Brigman grabbed for the gun, she was quoted and the gun fired. "I didn't mean to shoot him," she said.

Officers said Mrs. Bryant was clad in sunbathing shorts and halter.

They said they found an almost empty pint whiskey bottle on the kitchen table.

Liquor Sales, Slots Reported in Gilmer

Machines Openly Displayed And Whisky Easily Bought

Slot machine operations and illegal whisky sales were reported in Gilmer County Friday by The Atlanta Journal.

Illegal slots were prominently displayed on open counters in at least seven establishments, according to the report, and whisky was easily purchased in two places.

Sheriff Homer Hefner could not be reached for comment, but State Revenue Comissioner Dixon Oxford said agents would be assigned to investigate the reports.

The report said seven establishments had a total of 13 slot machines, all available to strangers who walked in.

It is against Georgia law to operate or even possess slot machines. It is also against the law to sell whisky in Gilmer County whether tax paid or not.

The Journal account listed the following places and violations:

The Supper Club — two miles south of the Gilmer-Fannin line, four slot machines.

The Steak House—a slot machine; a pint of whisky was purchased for $4.50.

Marshall's Place — a grocery store-meat market with a 10-cent slot machine on the front counter near the cash register.

Hub's Tavern—a beer place with a slot machine.

Guy's—a beer tavern with two slots.

Rebel Inn—a fairly new restaurant with three slots. Liquor was served openly.

County Line Beer Store—a beer place with a 25-cent slot.

Commissioner Oxford said no reports had been made by state agents on illegal sales in Gilmer County. He said the state may confiscate whisky offered for sale in a dry county and revoke the beer license of any establishment selling it.

Oxford also said publication of stories about whisky sales in the county may hinder the state's investigation.

Plans Body Joined by DeKalb

DeKalb County commissioners, in a special meeting Friday, voted unanimously to join the Atlanta Region Metropolitan Planning District and named three representatives to serve on the planing commission.

The three men chosen now serve DeKalb as representatives on the present Metropolitan Planning Commission. Searcy Slack, of Decatur, who is chairman of DeKalb's Planning Commission, was named chairman of the group serving DeKalb. Howard Menhenick, Georgia Tech professor, and Nelson Severinghaus, Decatur, were named to serve as representatives.

In another matter, Commissioner Brince Manning introduced a motion asking that an ordinance be passed forbidding a person to move his household belongings at night without a permit. The ordinance, Manning said, would curb "blockbusting" by Negroes, who come into white sections unobserved at night. The motion failed for want of a second.

The commissioners also approved street-lighting for 49 county intersection considered dangerous. The cost of the program was not to exceed $15,000.

The group voted to purchase about 40 acres of land for park sites throughout the county (subject to approval of the bond commission).

STEAK NO GOOD?

You Ate It -- So Pay Up, Judge Says

A roly-poly man Friday stood before Municipal Court Judge James Webb.

He was charged with having ordered a steak in a downtown restaurant and then refusing to pay for it.

He explained that he noticed on the menu that the restaurant management said customers did no thave to pay unless they liked the food.

Webb asked the restaurant manager if the menu carried that promise. The manager said it did.

"Did you like the steak?" Webb wanted to know.

"No," the customer said.

"Did you eat it all?" The judge asked.

The customer admitted he had.

The judge assessed a 30-day sentence and suspended it provided the customer paid the $4.50 for the steak.

He paid.

3 Youths Indicted Here In $2,497 Kidnap-Robbery

Three youths were indicted by the Fulton County Grand Jury Friday in the April 3 kidnap-robbery of a Bankhead highway supermarket operator, police said.

A fourth youth sought in the $2,497 robbery has been killed in an automobile accident at his home in Cleveland, Tenn., Detectives Y. H. Allen and B. G. Holland said.

Two of those indicated are in custody, detectives said. They were identified as William Vanoy James, 19, of a North Highland avenue, NE, address, and Adrian Briscoe, of a Copenhill avenue, NW, address.

Detectives said the third, Tommy Lee Jetter, 18, of Atlanta, has not been apprehended.

H. C. Sparks, of Mableton, manager of the supermarket at 2176 Bankhead Hwy., told police he closed the store at 9 p.m. and was en route home when he observed a car following him.

Sparks said he stopped at a service station for gasoline, but as he left he noticed the car still behind him. He said he stopped several times, but the other driver stopped also.

Within a few blocks of his home, Sparks said, the other car shot around his and blocked it. He said three occupants of the auto forced him to get into their machine to return to the store.

Two accompanied him inside the store and forced him to open the safe, Sparks said, while the third remained outside in a getaway car. He said after taking the money from the safe they placed him in a back room and warned him to stay threre for 45 minutes.

Detectives identified James Jetter and the dead youth as the three who entered the store. They charged an automobile belonging to Briscoe was used in the robbery and Briscoe shared in the loot.

Discarded clothing was found in a sewer along Baker road, detectives said, and the State Crime Laboratory was able to bring out the names of three suspects stencilled in the clothing.

U.S. Egg Plan Recommended

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-NJ), said Friday he has asked the Agriculture Department to reinstate its egg purchase program to buoy falling egg prices.

In a letter to Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, Case said the price of New Jersey eggs dropped sharply for the third time this year despite assurances of a stable market during the remainder of 1960.

Teacher Training Is Held Neglected

Not Getting Its Fair Share Of Budget, Legislators Told

The state is failing to give sufficient support to teacher training in relation to the amount of money spent on students training for other professions, a Department of Education official said Friday.

Dr. H. S. Shearouse, director of the department's division of instruction, told a legislative committee investigating the quality of teacher training that the major weaknesses in Georgia's teacher education program are:

1. Not enough money for teacher internship;

2. Not enough demonstration schools and

3. Less and less opportunity for students to observe excellence in teaching.

He pointed out that the state spends $571 a year for each student in the College of Education at the University of Georgia. At Georgia Southern College, another teacher-education unit of the state university system, only $395 is spent per year per student, he said.

In comparison, the state spends annually $1,243 for each enrollee studying nursing at the Medical College of Georgia and $2,527 for each studying medicine, he said.

Dr. Shearouse also told the committee that, in comparison with other schools and colleges at the University of Georgia, the College of Education is poorly housed and has less money to spend generally.

The committee's co-chairmen, Sens. Wallace Jernigan of Homerville, Rep. Battle Hall of Rome and Rep. Chappelle Matthews of Athens, said they will ask officials of the University System to testify at their next meeting, scheduled June 20.

The committee is a joint group made up of the House and Senate Committees on Education and the House Committee on the University System.

Machine Rule Is Unit System Intent

That old stock phrase about the county unit system stopping political machines at the county line is getting a bit shopworn. But politicians continue to mouth it in mock sincerity and many people—too many—believe them.

This week we heard it again from Peter Zack Geer and other top state officials.

The truth is, and the politicians know it, that the unit system as practiced in Georgia is a travesty on democratic rule. While it might stop political machines at the county line, it was designed by politicians as a method to establish statewide machines and to perpetuate themselves in power.

The unit system indeed is an asset to politicians. It makes it easy to give a sop here and another there in buying up counties cheaply with taxpayers' funds. It offers a convenient vehicle for promises and for railing at so-called "big city" machines. It makes it possible to pass out a few political favors to local leaders for their "vote and influence"—mostly "influence."

The county unit system which dilutes the vote of more and more Georgians every year is an iniquitous and unfair device without value to anyone except politicians and those vested interests which use them. It makes control of the state easier through denying the right of equality at the ballot box.

Those who warn of the dire consequences of ending this undemocratic system mainly have in mind the "dire consequences" it would have to their own political hides.

President's Safety Is Paramount Concern

The dramatic rescue by a U.S. Marine helicopter pilot of James C. Hagerty, presidential secretary, and U.S. Ambassador Douglas MacArthur II from a Tokyo mob is certainly enough to cause worry about the President's safety on his forthcoming trip.

As of yesterday the White House had not changed its plans about the presidential visit. Tokyo has guaranteed his safety and insists on going through with it. But if President Eisenhower should have to be similarly rescued, this country would suffer a propaganda reverse in Asia of great proportions.

The demonstrators, Japanese Socialists and Communists, represent a minority in Japan. It is obvious that Moscow is doing everything possible to prevent the Eisenhower journey. Most Japanese would welcome him.

It would be a diplomatic defeat to call off the trip. It also might mean the downfall of the Kishi government. But it should be postponed—preferably by Japan—if there is any doubt about the President's safety and if the dignity of the highest office in our land is to be subjected to such insults.

Clayton County Growth Bears Out Predictions

Up-and-coming Clayton County has landed another major industry—a four-million-dollar paint factory and distribution center. It's the fourth major manufacturing concern to choose Clayton in the past 18 months.

And that's not the end of it. The county's potential barely has been touched. Additional industries are making plans to move into the area, creating new jobs and promoting other business developments. Percentage-wise the county's population is increasing at a more rapid rate than any in the five-county metropolitan region.

This, of course, tends to bear out predictions by the Chamber of Commerce that metropolitan area growth may be even greater in the next decade than in the past. Location of the county itself and expressway construction makes it a natural for development.

One thing Atlanta's metropolitan area has that many other large cities do not have is room to grow. Its geography and its position as a giant distribution and transportation center makes rapid growth inevitable. It is imperative this growth be planned and the time for planning is now.

Plan To Rehabilitate Alcoholics Is Sound

A rehabilitation program for alcoholics at the city stockade would serve a humanitarian purpose and at the same time save the city a considerable amount of money.

Municipal Judge James Webb has been interested for years in the adoption of rehabilitation measures for the large number of persons repeatedly before the court on charges of drunkenness.

Momentum to such efforts has been added by the Atlanta Citizens Crime Committee. A subcommittee from the group will take its proposal on a rehabilitation program to city officials within the next few weeks. Mayor Hartsfield already has commented favorably on the suggested project.

The subcommittee notes that Atlanta police last year made 46,110 arrests for drunkenness and about 98 per cent of persons involved were sentenced to the city prison farm. Cost of housing the prisoners is estimated at more than $1,200,000. In addition, there is the cost of police services, jail and court operation, transportation, etc.

Surely city officials not only recognize the need for a rehabilitation program for alcoholics but will move full speed toward activating it.

Here's a Way Counties Can Increase Revenue

State law should require car owners to pay their auto taxes at the same time they buy their tags.

The one-shot plan, recommended by Fulton County tax officials and by several grand juries in the state, would prevent the loss of large sums of money to counties.

Present law requires tag buyers to swear that the previous year's taxes on their vehicles have been paid. In view of the fact that in Fulton alone between $150,000 and $200,000 are owed in back taxes on cars, there must be thousands of Georgians or former Georgians who have sworn falsely on their tag applications.

It's a gigantic task to cross-check the records and track down delinquents. As a result, a large number get away with thumbing their noses at tax collectors.

All counties that want what is rightfully theirs from auto taxes would do well to prod their legislators. Such action could accomplish wonders toward passage of the one-shot plan, a proposal which twice has been before the General Assembly but lost out—apparently because the majority of lawmakers felt it would be politically unpopular to tighten down too much.

Eichmann Is a Beast But Israel Is Wrong

There are few indeed who can feel sympathy for Adolf Eichmann, the man charged with responsibility for the death of six million Jews in Europe during Hitler's mad rule. There is no episode in history more shameful.

But in the controversy now raging between Argentina and Israel over abduction of Eichmann from his South American hiding place, the Israelis are in the wrong. The national sovereignty of Argentina has been violated and the crimes of Eichmann do not excuse such flaunting of international law.

If Eichmann thus can be kidnaped, what is to prevent the same thing happening in this country, be the individual you or me? If Israel's action is right, what is to prevent any country from using the same tactics to seize persons they might like to have out of the way?

Eichmann's crime was against humanity and if he is to be tried it should be before an international court. Israel is wrong to attempt unilateral action and world opinion will not support her violation of international rules.

It's High Time the State Clamped Down on Vice

What's become of the so-called law enforcement in those counties where vice flourishes in open defiance of state statutes and common decency?

Slot machines and other gambling devices are gobbling up huge sums of money. Tourists are being fleeced at clip joints. Whisky is being sold over the counter in some dry counties.

Past performance in wide-open counties indicates that little or nothing will be done at the local level to correct conditions except for occasional warnings to close up for a while until the heat is off.

When local law enforcement breaks down, it's time for the state to step in. The time has arrived, so far as some counties are concerned, and in fact in a good many instances action by the state is long overdue.

Let's clean up the mess and do it now. The waiting game has worn thin.

Marine Corps commandant said recently that his headquarters in the Pentagon is "understaffed and overstuffed." His helpers are too few and too fat, we take it.

On Getting Georgia Out of the Woods

We Georgians have to spend so much time mopping up spilt milk that we fail to tend to the cow. If we can ever, ever get caught up with the cleaning, we really ought to plan ahead.

Consider tourists. They bring money. They take away impressions. Their money can make up a major Georgia industry. Their impressions can make the state a national reputation.

We owe it to them and to ourselves to take a positive hold on the possibilities. The handle is visible . . .

Concurrently, though, we have to clean up the mess. And what a mess it is.

Georgia is not going to make a national reputation out of firecrackers, free zoos and instant weddings.

If the Sheriff's Assn. will finish the job it started of junking the fee system, the state can rid its roads of the trap-happy robber barons who extend the arm of the law palm up.

If honest local people backed by the state will rise up against the honky-tonks and alligator heavens that front for gambling dives, the crooks will get on down the road and their local protectors can retire back under the rocks.

And if the Legislature will quit piddling with the fireworks foolishness and the quickie marriage squalor, and put some law on them next January, then the state will be getting back closer to even and the tourist can at least avoid ambush.

What then?

The handle to the future is visible and bright. Next year marks the first of five Civil War centennial years. Georgia can be the center of the national observance. By 1965 this state can be established as a major tourist point. The wheel of history took a century to turn to Georgia with such promise.

The state has the battlefields, the Taras, the monuments and men to make it the cradle of Southern war history. More than this, it has the revolutionary thrust of change within it, measured in its diversifying fields and its rising skylines and its widening minds, and these are the elements of motion required to unfasten history from its hitching post and make it pivot forward to a bright present and a glittering future.

Sluggish planning and barren minds can't light this fire. But it can be kindled by a movement, strongly led, toward inspired effort.

This is the moment to tend the old underfed butthead named Georgia.

She's a tough beast who can live off the woods but she could take the blue ribbon if we would only try her.

Rockefeller Move Rocks Nixon Boat

WASHINGTON — The demand which Gov. Rockefeller served on Nixon for a preconvention account of his position on the issues posed by this "new period" in world history is the latest demonstration of an eternal truth in politics. This truth is that no nomination or election is a certainty until it has been accomplished, however overwhelming the prospect may appear.

And this is particularly so when the stake involved is the presidency of the United States.

Since this truth has been firmly established in the annals of American politics, it is strange that it is usually ignored. And the prevailing disposition to ignore it is stranger in view of certain unchanging verities. Among these are:

The narrow and shifting margin by which a major political party wins or loses a national election. The unanticipated events that can shift this margin from the apparent loser to the unexpected winner, especially in the last stages of a contest. The incurable nature of an ambition to be president. The strength of this ambition that enables it to be pursued with small hope of success.

When Kennedy warned his party not to discount Nixon in advance as a presidential candidate (and he certainly would say that emphatically of Rockefeller), he has had in mind these ever-present hazards of a national contest between the Democrats and the Republicans that are supplemented this year by explosives scattered about the world. In common with all political realists, Kennedy knows that Aesop's tortoise was not the first or the last to beat a hare which made the mistake of over-confidence.

Nixon, too, is definitely unlike the hare of the fable but Rockefeller's statement is the first solid challenge to his pace on the course to the Chicago convention. If he declines to change his tactic of reserving until he has been nominated his "precise" proposals to meet the "great matters before the nation," as Rockefeller has demanded, he will be on the defensive in the party until late July. Because there is real Republican opposition to him, though it has perforce been latent until the governor's strong encouragement, that posture could be dangerous to his ambition.

If the vice president meets the Rockefeller challenge, he must to some degree disclose his differences with certain acts and policies of the administration. And, while the President has given a sort of blessing to such a disclosure, it could embroil Nixon's own supporters in the convention. Also, it could make impossible the choice of platform language which would endorse the positions of both the administration and the convention candidate without arousing public scorn.

Bareskin Mailman Upsets Post Office

It looks to me like the post office is getting itself into a fix with the case of the Bareskin Mailman so I offer it the benefit of my highly qualified advice. This is pretty big of me as I am pretty mad at the post office ever since I started getting two four-cent stamps for a dime out of those drugstore machines instead of three three-cent stamps.

However, our post office, right or wrong, is what I always say, so now that it is in a fuss with nudists this is on my beat. As I was a nudist.

It is in a fuss with one nudist anyhow, Walter Stiles, the Bareskin Mailman of Homestead, Fla., a postal worker threatened with loss of his job on account of he belongs to the Sunny Palms Lodge out in South Dade and wanders around in the altogether with fellow nudists and had his photo in a nudist magazine.

Stiles is charged with conduct unbecoming a government employe and has until June 13 to reply why being a nudist is not either conduct unbecoming a government employe.

And postal inspectors, I read, are checking on the case.

I presume, and this seems obvious to me, that the only way postal inspectors can check out nudism is at a nudist camp which I would dearly love to see if only to find where they pin their badge.

So, as a former nudist, I offer them a few tips.

"Just hang your clothes on the car door there," I was told, and was assured that in no time at all I would not feel the least bit conspicuous.

So my first tip is for you to plan to stay longer than three hours and 20 minutes. I do not know how long it takes to quit feeling conspicuous but it is longer than that as I can testify.

Also, you are going to run into some pretty enthusiastic advocates of nudism out there. They are going to try to convert you to the movement and all of them are persuasive: all will point out the same virtues of nudism as increasing both mental and physical health.

Their arguments will be heartfelt and almost word for word.

So you might just as well hear the pitch from the shapely brunette. She is seated in the lounge chair at the south side of the swimming pool.

What I mean, if you're going to hear the virtues of nudism you might just as well hear them from a shapely brunette as from a plumbing contractor down from Racine. So jot that down.

American Sunbathers Assn. of more than 100,000 members, I see, has rallied behind Stiles and is sending a prominent lawyer from Texas to help defend his case.

I do not see in the paper if the lawyer himself is a nudist but if he is and is half the lawyer I hope he is he will demand a change of venue over to Sunny Palms.

This would be the ideal locale for a nudism case, in a nudist camp, and I hope it is a jury trial as this would be something indeed to see. Even if justice is blind.

(Also it might provide the ideal case for that out-of-work lawyer from the Perry Mason show.)

Statement That British Health Service Is On Way Out Labeled as 'Utter Trash'

Smyrna—As a native Britisher I really cannot allow to go unchallenged the comments of the president of the American Medical Assn. reported in The Atlanta Constitution.

The British medical service has been the subject of almost ceaseless propaganda.

To suggest, as Dr. Orr did, that the national health service is on the way out in England can best be summarized in two words—utter trash.

Medical attention — the finest and most conscientious in the world—is available to any person requiring it.

Unlike America, where it was reported last year some eight million families owed an average of $121 for medical care and another two million had borrowed an average of $212 to pay their medical bills, the preservation of good health is not, in Britain, dependent on the size of one's pocketbook.

And since no one in Britain—even the doctors, the surgeons, the dentists, the opticians—are complaining, I see no reason why any doctor, even if he be the president of the American Medical Assn., should seek to elevate himself to the position of spokesman for a nonexistent group in another country whose domestic affairs are no concern of his.

State Hospital 'Mess' Held Still in Existence

Milledgeville—I hope the governor and Mr. Kidd will let things cool off a bit, join forces and pay a visit to the State hospital and examine the Howell, Walker, Green, Binion and other buildings they and the press have been steered around and then settle down and clean up this mess.

Georgian Renounces Human Rights Denial

Cumming—I am a 30-year-old white native Georgian, and I hereby wish to protest and renounce the prevailing trend of social thought in my state. I repudiate that trend of thought expressed collectively as law, whereby the basic human right of nonviolent protestation and petition for the remedying of grievances is not only denied but is branded as a criminal act.

Let us white people remember this basic psychological fact: that the subject as well as the object of prejudice suffers psychological damage. The corrosive guilt of restricting the Negro race to a degrading status incompatible with human dignity is a characterological fact whether we are aware of it or not. Either the Christian principle of the brotherhood of man is applicable here or it is a principle which has no meaning.

Support Is Urged For Economic Aid

Atlanta—Unless a great deal of public support for economic aid is demonstrated to Congress, there is danger that funds for continuing the program will be drastically cut. This is, therefore, a plea that citizens and voters write their senators and congressman to let their views be known.

Our government for months has been seeking larger commitments from other nations to provide economic aid and those governments (England, France, West Germany, Japan) have responded by increasing their aid to the underdeveloped and as yet uncommitted countries. Can we now reduce ours?

The President Disappeared

All the conversation about whether Ike should go to Japan revives memories of an incident unique in American history. In June 1893, the President of the United States vanished. Stephen Grover Cleveland, only president to make a comeback after an interruption, had been inaugurated for a second term, after a four-year layoff, in March that year. It couldn't have happened to a better man at a worse time. Hardly had Grover C. repeated the oath of allegiance than the crash came, the depression. Except in those days they called it a "panic."

Banks went under and railways, 156 of them, into the hands of the receiver. Wheat fell to 49 cents.

The President called for a special session of Congress and then disappeared.

But not voluntarily.

He had been suffering from mouth trouble.

Serious this was. Not the hoof-in-mouth business with which many politicos are afflicted.

An operation was imperative.

Presidential advisers agreed "the country must not know!"

The recession might turn into utter rout.

So the President of the United States was taken to a yacht offshore from New York City.

The surgery was successful. (The diagnosis now is cancer of the mouth.)

Convalescence, too, was kept top secret.

The crisis passed for Cleveland and the nation.

Grover C. finished the term, retired in 1897 to Princeton, N.J., and did consulting and lecturing until his death at 71 in 1908.

GOOD READERSHIP: Publicity has been credited with many things but three Upson County anglers are the first to blame it for fish not biting. Leon Smith tells about it in the Thomaston Free Press:

"The Atlanta Constitution made a big sports page story about Hugh Ellerbee, Roy Grubb and Harry Turner making a drift trip down the Flint River . . . but they called from Cordele a couple of days later and blamed the publicity on their failure to catch any fish."

Time Is Valuable; Budget It Wisely

From time to time each of us is suddenly shocked into realization that today we are a day older than we were yesterday, or we are jolted by the rapidity with which one year follows another. A businessman told me the other day that he was making plans for next Christmas and added: "It seems last Christmas is only a few hours past. Where does time go!"

"The Lord . . . redeemeth thy life from destruction" (Psalm 103:2-4). The Lord will help us to set a value on the passing day and not to squander our time in useless folly or the empty pursuit of meaningless goals. The text says the Lord will redeem our lives from destruction.

Wasting time is a common sin. It is well for us periodically to take stock of our lives, to judge our accomplishments by our dreams, to revalue our purposes that life may not have passed us by before we have discovered life's meaning.

I have a friend who is greatly imposed upon, or so it sometimes seems to me. Every time there is some task in the church to be done, his name is brought up. All manner of civic responsibility is heaped upon his shoulders. I've never known him to say no to a worthy challenge or turn a deaf ear to an opportunity to do good.

I have long marveled how he gets so much done and yet always looks relaxed and rested. I've never heard him complain about the many claims on his time.

One day I asked him his secret. I'd taken on more than I thought I could get done. I knew my friend would have a word of wisdom to offer. Then he told me about his "squaring-off period." Before there is much of a stir in the house he arises and in a quiet place he "squares off," as he puts it.

"I get ready for the day. I get my mind in the right posture." He reads briefly from the Bible and prays to God. "After I get myself adjusted to God I attempt to adjust myself to the day. With a pad and pencil I make notes concerning the opportunities and responsibilities of the next 16 or 17 hours.

"A portion of each day I devote to my home and children. Eight hours each weekday I must be at my desk. I must find time each day for recreation and relaxation. Every man ought to give a part of each day to his community and his church. After all these are listed I usually realize there is time to spare."

The key to his full and joyful life is found in the 15 minutes spent each morning with God. He budgets his time carefully. Time is too expensive to squander heedlessly. The stewardship of time he considers to be a Christian's obligation.

It is the Lord who is redeeming his life from waste and destruction.

UNPERTURBED HAGERTY TAKES PICTURES

overhead ramp near the big four-engine plane. Hagerty got a quick, routine greeting from MacArthur and Shinichi Kondon, spokesman for the Japanese Foreign Office.

Then Hagerty, MacArthur and Stephens got into a long, black limousine, with a small American flag flying from each front bumper.

About a mile from the airport terminal, demonstrators stood massed on two roads approaching the airport. They carried banners and placards reading: "Hang Hagerty," "Hagerty go home," "Go to hell Ike" and "We'll smash you."

MET AT UNDERPASS

They heard reports that two helicopters had landed at the airport and Hagerty might try to fly out on one of them and escape the crowd. The copters were there but Hagerty chose to go ahead by car.

The crowd burst out of the approach roads and onto the main route circling the airport. They met the limousine just as it emerged from an underpass.

The sea of demonstrators, taken aback to find their prize in front of them, hesitated momentarily and then closed in.

In accented English they shouted: "Goh hoh-mu Ha-g-chee" and "Goh hoh-mu Yankee."

THREW STONES, DIRT

In the initial onslaught some threw stones and dirt. Others whacked the car with their banner standards. A few kicked it. Some got together and rocked it back and forth while others sat in the road. Half a dozen climbed on the roof and exhorted their fellows.

One tail light was smashed. A chromium-plated flagpole was broken off the front bumper. The hood was dented. The car windows were cracked. No move was made to reach inside.

Hagerty, with a cigaret dangling from his lips, took snapshots of the milling crowd with a miniature camera. He scribbled on a pad of paper, chatted with newsmen and accepted a note from one of the crowd.

POLICE ARRIVE

Harried American security men formed a barrier around the stalled automobile.

Finally the Japanese police arrived and the battle came to a stalemate.

By government count, 28 policemen and an undisclosed number of students were injured in the scuffles and fights. One student raised a placard reading "Dear Ike—Don't support Kishi, who is a traitor." He brought it down with a thump on a policeman's helmet.

RIDES HELICOPTER

By this time Hagerty had given up his plans to drive into town. Overhead a Marine helicopter piloted by Maj. Donn Foss of Sioux Falls, S. D., hovered like a brooding hen. Each time Foss attempted to settle to earth he was forced back by demonstrators brandishing the bamboo poles of their placards, disregarding the whirling rotors.

Finally he came down with a whoosh, whipping up a small tornado of dust with his rotors and scattering the mob for a brief moment. That was enough to permit police to hurry the three Americans out of the car and into the copter.

A few minutes later they landed at a small American heliport in Tokyo and sped to the embassy, entering the Colonial style residence by a back gate to avoid arousing several thousand demonstrators standing in front of the chancery, 150 yards away.

Soon the embassy switchboard was swamped with calls from Japanese expressing personal shock and regret at the demonstration. Japan's largest newspaper, Asahi Shimbun, which has suggested canceling Eisenhower's visit, called the incident "barbarian" and said the Japanese no longer are proud of their reputation as the Orient's most polite people.

Kishi's Cabinet met in emergency session and formally expressed regrets. Foreign Minister Aiichiro Fujiyama, a dignified, white-haired businessman - politician, was directed to call on the American officials and apologize.

But Inejiro Asanuma, chairman of the opposition Socialist party, appeared on television and made this comment: "Why should they try to go by automobile into a place where lots of students and unionists are sitting? It (Hagerty's plan) seems almost deliberate."

Japanese police posted no more than 600 policemen at the airport to cope with the extremist students of the Zengakuren organization and members of the big, leftist-led Sohyo labor organization.

The government has promised to muster 17,000 policemen, with several thousand more in reserve, for duty at the airport, along the route and around the U. S. Embassy and the Imperial Palace when Eisenhower arrives.

sen (Ill.) considered it unlikely that what happened to Hagerty would happen to the President. He said there is "sort of an ingrained respect for persons in high authority" and predicted the Japanese would show respect to Eisenhower.

On the other hand, Sen. Capehart (R-Ind), a Foreign Relations Committee member, said he feared the President might receive "worse treatment." He said, "We should not put ourselves in the position to be humiliated and embarrassed."

Sen. Humphrey, another committee member, said the President should call off the trip unless there are "absolute guarantees" that he will not be personally molested. He called the attack on Hagerty "a direct affront to the American people."

"It is evidence the Communists are reverting to type—to violence, hooliganism and rowdyism," Humphrey said.

been held for the past 12 years.

Cuban sponsors have told Northside Kiwanians that the Castro government has limited Cubans to one trip abroad a year during which they can take with them only $150.

"In this condition, it is hard to find persons who would want to spend the only chance to leave the country in a year on a pleasure trip like this," a Cuban wrote local club members. "It is possible that in August we won't be able to carry out any American money."

A Cuban woman wrote, in another letter:

"We feel that the Havalanta Games have achieved their real purpose, to create a personal bond of friendship between two cities over and above international complications."

"I'm sure," she continued, "if these bonds had been cemented in other circles we would not be so entirely misunderstood as we are now."

Champion swimmers from New Orleans, Coral Gables, Fla., and Greensboro, N.C., have been invited to compete with Atlanta swimmers Aug. 25-27.

Tennis, golf and baseball champions from other cities will be invited here later, said A. B. Padgett, chairman of the Kiwanis Club's special sports committee.

The lieutenant governor said:

"Fortunately, I'm in the position of not having to apologize for my conduct in the past and I intend to conduct myself in a manner that the people of my state will not have to be embarrassed in the future.

"If we had less talk and more understanding and help and cooperation from the extremists, our task would be much easier."

duties performed by the U2 spy plane.

The committee voted $83,800,000 to speed work on Samos. It restored a cut made by the Senate Military Appropriations subcommittee in House-approved funds for the satellite and added 50-million dollars more.

It also overruled its subcommittee by voting an additional 125-million dollars for Army modernization and providing 10-million dollars to buy 10 Fairchild F27 Turbo-prop transport planes for the Air Force. This made the committee bill $218,800,000 bigger than the subcommittee version.

The bill also would provide funds to restore the pared-down B70 supersonic bomber program to a full weapons development system. It would restore the Bomarc anti-aircraft missile program and finance completion of Bomarc bases in Oregon and Washington.

The measure would speed financing of nuclear-powered submarines, both for anti-sub warfare and for the Polaris missile firing system. The Navy also would get an additional conventionally-powered super aircraft carrier.

Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM) said the committee rejected 17-4 a proposal by Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) to give the Air Force an additional 415-million dollars to prepare for an airborne alert.

The bill carried 85-million dollars for an alert, plus a provision that would let the President transfer funds from other programs if he considered such action necessary.

The bill would give the Army $9,556,496,000; the Navy $12,203,465,000 and the Air Force $17,433,636,000. The funds would provide armed forces of about the present size—870,000 men in the Army; 825,000 in the Air Force; 619,000 in the Navy and 175,000 in the Marines.

Farm Mart Boss Pleads Guilty in $3,158 Case

Constitution State News Service

MACON—The manager of the Macon State Farmer's Market surrendered and pleaded guilty Friday after state officials accused him of being $3,159 short in his collections.

Superior Court Judge Hal Bell deferred sentencing the manager, James Lavender, until July 5. Lavender posted a bond and was released.

State officials demanded restitution from Lavender's bonding company.

Sol. Gen. William M. West charged that the market manager collected fees from farmers using the state-operated market and turned in less money than he collected.

The State Agriculture Department fired Lavender Thursday when its investigation was completed.

Assistant Atty. Gen. Hewell Harrison and A. M. Jordan of the Agriculture Department were present at the arraignment before Judge Bell.

it, at the same time placing his left hand on Nixon's right shoulder in one of his typical gestures.

Turning to Nixon, he said: "And now we're together again."

Then, turning to Philip, he said: "So, we're grateful to you."

Nixon, after extending greetings on behalf of the President and referring to Anglo-American friendship, said: "Gov. Rockefeller very appropriately mentioned that this was a special occasion, significant not only because of this magnificent exhibition, but because it did bring Prince Philip here on his birthday and it did bring the governor and me together."

Nixon said that while Americans have "differences between and within our parties, the differences should never obscure the great principles on which we agree as Americans."

The public, newsmen and photographers were banned from the anteroom, which was reserved for about 40 specially invited guests.

Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press secretary, said later that as he recalled it, Nixon said, "It's good to see you, Nelson," and that Rockefeller replied, "It's good to see you again." Nixon greeted Mrs. Rockefeller warmly.

After a brief chat in which Prince Philip joined, Gov. and Mrs. Rockefeller proceeded to the dais on the main floor of the Coliseum for the opening ceremonies.

Nixon, representing President Eisenhower, arrived at the dais a short time later side by side with Prince Philip.

Later, in speaking at the ceremonies, Nixon warned that the cold war might last 50 years.

The vice president said he hoped the conflict would not be resolved by war but warned that it would not be settled "in two or five years—perhaps a generation or even 50 years."

should ask Ben T. Huiett, state labor commissioner, why he is reducing employment of Negroes in his department.

Meyer said the administration of justice is so broad a subject that the committee would wait until it received complaints. The group has had no complaints of any nature since it was set up.

Howard See of Atlanta, a committee member, suggested no method has been set up for receiving complaints. Meyer said anyone could register a complaint through the mails and then appear before the committee in person.

Meyer recommended that a subcommittee bring in up-to-date information on court cases involving school segregation and go into higher education, including allocation of funds to Negro colleges.

He said the field of housing is "touchier" than any other in discriminatory practices. His home town of Gainesville, he said, is running out of land centrally located for new housing. He pointed to reports of blockbusting by Negroes in Atlanta and said the committee's information on the Georgia housing situation should be brought up to date.

tor general's office for allowing photographers to photograph Jones leaving money in a telephone booth and said it smacked of publicity seeking.

Webb's appeal said the court's criticism was written without affording his office "an opportunity to speak or make a showing as to their motives in doing what was done in the case." His appeal said he could show the criticism was "not warranted."

The appeal also contended that if certain facts in the record had been "considered and properly construed and applied," they would "require the vacation" of the ruling of 10 days ago.

The motion contended that portions of the court's opinion "had no factual basis in the evidence or record . . . to support it and is therefore merely a conclusion, surmise, or guess made by the writer of the opinion."

Jones, an Atlanta tractor dealer, was under investigation by the grand jury in connection with his tractor sales to the state when he was arrested for making an alleged $2,500 "down payment" on a planned bribe payment to the jury foreman.

Webb's appeal apparently was the result of a change of mind on the case. He had said after the decision was rendered that prosecution of the case was ended.

Pagans Worry, Too, Atlantan Discovers

By JIM BENTLEY

In every age there is someone who writes that the happiest man is the aboriginal tribesman—no H-bomb to worry about, no taxes, none of the problems of a sophisticated city—or suburban—dweller.

And in every age there is someone who disagrees with the preceding old wives' tale.

In this case it's a young Atlanta woman who should know what she is talking about. She is Miss Betty Yarbrough, Christian missionary to the jungle Isle of Cebu in the Philippines.

Although many of the Filipinos are followers of a great religion—Christianity, Islam, Buddhism—a few tribes are pagan, and hostile to Christian missionaries. "The tribes were once very fierce," Miss Yarbrough says.

But they have no peace, she told a Constitution reporter. The pagans are not happy, carefree souls, but are "very fearful." They still offer sacrifices to their gods when they see a storm brewing or experience any natural disaster, she related.

"They don't know peace and joy until they become Christians and cease to be afraid."

A native of Atlanta, Miss Yarbrough attended Roosevelt High School and graduated in 1951 from Atlanta Christian College. After two years in the Philippines she returned in 1955 to study practical nursing at Grady Hospital, then back again to the islands as a missionary for Grant Park Christian Church.

She lives near the town of Talisay, where transportation is difficult and "you do the best you can with what you've got." She administers typhoid shots, advises new mothers and "once almost had to deliver a baby." Besides all that she teaches music, English and Greek (for Filipinos who want to read the New Testament in the original) at the Bible Seminary.

One of her greatest experiences in the islands, she says, was the conversion of the chief of the Terorays—one of the more backwoodsy of the local boys—at a Christmas service she conducted on the Isle of Cebu.

Methodists To Air $3,600 Pastor Pay Floor

One of the most important, if successful, proposals facing the annual South Georgia Methodist Conference next week is a suggestion by the ministerial support commission to raise salaries of many south Georgia preachers to a near-living wage.

If the proposal is passed, minimum amounts married preachers can be paid will be $3,600, instead of the present $3,000; single men will receive a minimum of $3,000, also a $600 raise.

Other important proposals to be considered include those dealing with racial policies, meeting time and place of jurisdictional conferences and limitation of a bishop's term to 12 years in an area.

The Arthur J. Moore Memorial Building, a two-story, modernistic, $200,000 administrative addition to the million-dollar Methodist layout at Epworth-by-the-Sea, will be dedicated to the Atlantan, who retires in July after 30 years as a bishop of the Methodist Church.

According to the Presbyterian news service here it is the first time the college, related to the Reformed Presbyterian Church of North America, has so honored a Negro alumnus.

Christianity Can Stand Doubting

QUESTION: I know a student who after four years of college has lost his faith, and among other things believes the Bible is just a book of poetry. Could it be he was not saved?

—L. B.

ANSWER: I am not his judge. Only God can tell whether he was a Christian before he entered this period of doubt. It is not at all uncommon for young people to reexamine their faith, and to go through periods of doubt. Even Thomas, one of Christ's disciples, experienced a time of doubting, but he came back to be one of the staunchest of the disciples.

I have met men in education who asked questions which seemed to be intended to shake one's faith but, actually, they might have been asking for their own information, or in an attempt to test the faith of believers. I am quite sure that some young people go to college with a nominal, rather than an experimental, Christian faith. If their beliefs are not rooted in the heart, and if they have not truly yielded themselves to Christ, it is easy for them to have their superficial faith brushed away by some professor who may himself be seeking some basis for belief in God and in Christ.

I could name several outstanding Christian leaders who went through periods of doubt regarding their faith, but they emerged triumphant.

Churches Making Altar A Centrally Placed Table

By TOM HENSHAW
Associated Press Religion Writer

NEW YORK—The altar of the future may be a simple table located in the middle of the church.

The trend is moving that way in the opinion of Dr. Edward S. Frey, executive director of the department of church architecture of the United Lutheran Church of America.

"In the first five years of our department," says Frey, "we didn't see a single plan to indicate such a trend.

TREND SHOWS

"But in the last three years we've seen about 15 out of a thousand, and two or three hundred of the others featured free-standing altars, that is, altars moved slightly away from the wall."

Pastor Frey, who notes the trend in Roman Catholic and Reformed as well as Lutheran churches, attributes the shifting altar to the liturgical revival of the past 30 years.

"It's designed to inspire a greater participation of the people in the central act of worship—the Eucharist," he says.

OLD PRACTICE

Pastor Frey sees the trend toward central altars, not as a modern innovation, but as a return to the practices of the church in apostolic times.

"The early church," he says, "met together as an intimate group. Many of the oldest churches were octagonal or circular with the altar in the middle.

"The early basilicas had altars at one end of the church but not against the wall. Often the clergymen stood behind the altar facing the people.

CATHOLICS MAY LEAD

"It wasn't until medieval times that the concept developed of the congregation as spectators rather than participants. Then the altar started getting remote from the people.

"Perhaps, as of this moment more Roman Catholic than Protestant churches are moving the altar to the people."

Pastor Frey also detects a trend toward simplification of altars making them ministerial rather than mysterious or dramatic.

"The mysterious altar, the kind used in the Eastern churches, is so completely screened off from the people that you can see it only if you're sitting directly in front of the door leading to it.

"The dramatic altars, like the one in St. Peter's in Rome with its highlighting, canopy and gilt, grew out of the ornateness of the Renaissance.

"The ministerial altars, which appear neatly in the Reformed churches, are little more than tables where people gather for the sacraments.

"Lately, altars have been emphasizing this table quality — closer and closer to the people."

2 Atlanta Girls Compete Today in National Bible Contest

Two young Atlanta girls will compete Sunday in the finals of the American Bible Contest in New York.

Marilyn Kraar and Margaret Heyman both won first-place honors in the regional contest, sponsored by the Atlanta Bureau of Jewish Education.

Marilyn, a student at the Hebrew Academy, won a first place in the junior Hebrew division, and Margaret, a student at The Temple Religious School, won in the junior English division.

National winners in the junior divisions will receive camp scholarships and other valuable awards, according to Samuel H. Rosenberg, executive director of the bureau here.

Second and third-place winners in the junior Hebrew divisions were also Atlantans, Joel Gross and Barry Janus.

Leonard Oberstein and Karen Cohen, both of Montgomery, Ala., were runners-up in the junior English division.

Purpose of the contest is to promote greater interest in Bible reading and study among young people and to strengthen the role of Bible studies in the school curriculum.

Clergy To Get Higher Annuities

Special to The Constitution

NEW YORK — Congregational Christian Churches will double annuities of 500 retired ministers and widows of ministers, and greatly increase payments to 900 others in an effort to relieve the pinch of 1960 living on depression-day salaries, a church official said here.

A half-million dollars yearly, originally scheduled for missionary giving, will be set aside for pension increases.

Of the oldest group of retired ministers, the spokesman said, 804 are over 75 years of age and cannot live on their flat $600 annual pension. Their payments will be raised Jan. 1, 1961, to $900 and later to $1,200.

"Medical science continues the study of longevity in its relation to diet, exercise, drinking and smoking in the hope that the life-span may be comfortably extended."—Medical column quote.

You don't know how long you will last . . . You know you're losing strength, but fast . . . And you know, without being told . . . This is a sign you're getting old . . . And then your doctor tells you that . . . You must not eat an ounce of fat . . . No melted butter on your toast . . . Nor gravy with your well-done roast . . . . For food like this, as he explains . . . Will harden arteries and veins.

You mustn't drink, you mustn't smoke . . . Such dissipations may provoke . . . Some mild disturbance in your glands . . . For, at your age your health demands . . . Attention, temperaance and care . . . To keep your body in repair.

The chances are you'll live to be . . . A hundred if you will agree . . . To heed the doctor's sage advice . . . But, do you want to pay the price? . . . That's the decision you must make . . . Of living just for living's sake . . . By doing what you have been told . . . Or do you want to be that old?

Down on the Farm

Though the Los Angeles Dodgers are losing games in a manner unbecoming world champions, it was refreshing to discover Friday that Mr. Buzzie Bavasi hasn't lost his sense of humor.

Bavasi, the vice president in charge of producing pennants in Los Angeles, is confronted with a prodigious assignment. After 49 trips to the post, the Dodgers are galloping nine and a half lengths behind Pittsburgh.

Outlar

"I'm all mixed up this year," Bavasi quipped Friday via long distance from Los Angeles. "I have the wrong team in Los Angeles."

He was referring to the rambunctious manner in which the youthful Dodger farm hands have been acting of late in the Southern Association. While the Crackers were winning 11 of 13 games in a super charge toward first place, the parent Dodgers were dropping 7 of 10 at home.

"Maybe we should trade clubs," Bavasi said. "Seriously, it's great to know that things are going good in Atalnta."

Having seen the Dodgers on TV recently, I informed Bavasi that Rube Walker probably was content to play his present hand.

Asked to expound on the disappointing conduct of the parent Dodgers, Bavasi quickly replied, "We can't get any relief pitching. We have scored something like 52 runs in the last six games, and lost four of 'em."

—Bavasi Tabs Giants Team to Beat

Bavasi had to search no further than Thursday night's setback in the Coliseum to illustrate his point. Los Angeles was leading Milwaukee, 4-1, in the seventh inning. It appeared that the Dodgers were on the brink of administering a rare defeat to nemesis Lew Burdette.

"We bring in (Ed) Roebuck," Bavasi said. "What happens? He gives up a three-run double. The Braves get five runs in the seventh; we lose, 6-5."

Does Bavasi expect the Dodgers to do an about face?

"Oh, we've still got a good chance," he answered. "We may get going. At any rate, we're going to go with what we've got."

As they say in baseball, the Dodgers obviously must beat seven other clubs to climb back into contention. But Bavasi was asked to cite the team or teams impressing thus far.

"The Giants are the team to beat," he replied without hesitation. "They've got that ball park with the wind blowing and those pitchers.

"What about the Pirates? Well, I personally don't believe that (Vern) Law and (Bob) Friend can carry them all the way.

"Milwaukee? They beat us, but they haven't shown me anything. Just like last night. We should have won the game. I say the Giants are the team to beat for the pennant."

—Ample Action in the Front Office

Since the possibility of viewing a first-place team in Los Angeles appears remote at the moment, it was suggested that Bavasi should visit the farms. The first division atmosphere should prove an invigorating tonic for his frayed nerves.

"I'm coming to Atlanta in July," the Dodger veep replied. "I went down to San Diego to see Spokane the other night. They're doing fine in the Coast League."

Though this probably is a season Bavasi would like to forget, he isn't apt to. The Dodgers haven't been too exciting afield, but they've kept the front office busy.

What about the Carl Furillo incident?

"He's a nice fellow," Bavasi said, but he was talking when he should have been listening. I tried to send him to Spokane and pay his major league salary. I wasn't trying to save $33,000; I was trying to give it to him."

What about the report that Drysdale wanted to be traded?

"He called me the next morning," Bavasi said. "He told me that he didn't say all those things."

What about Frank Howard?

"He's doing all right. He's hitting .300. He's doing as well as you could expect him to do."

What about Stan Landes, the umpire who allegedly refused to allow the batboy to pick up a bat, tossed it up the first base line and set the stage for Larry Sherry's injury?

"He's ————!"

The Dodgers have slowed up, but Bavasi hasn't.

TRAINER JIMMY PITTS CHECKS INJURED ANKLE

Bally Ache's Out of Belmont Because of Ailing Leg

Tompion Is 6-5 Belmont Choice

Bally Ache Hurts Ankle; 7 Run for Record Purse

NEW YORK (AP)—Favored Bally Ache was withdrawn Friday from the $125,000-added Belmont Stakes because of an ailing right front ankle, leaving a field of seven 3-year-olds to contest the 92nd and richest running of the mile and one-half classic Saturday.

The injury to Bally Ache, the $1,250,000 Turfland Syndicate colt who won the Preakness, left C. V. Whitney's Tompion as the 6 to 5 favorite at Belmont Park.

This was the latest of a week-long series of incidents revolving about the final race of the Kentucky Derby-Preakness - Belmont Triple Crown series.

The shocking suddeness of the Bally Ache withdrawal not only removed the favorite of the $2 fans from the race, but means the 3-year-old championship can't be settled until another day. Twelve of the last 15 Belmont winners have been voted the 3-year-old title.

Tompion was the even money favorite for the May 7 Kentucky Derby, but finished fourth as Venetian Way beat Bally Ache by 3½ lengths. Then Bally Ache won the Preakness by 4 lengths May 21, and Venetian Way ran fifth. Tompion, who threw a shoe during the Derby running, skipped the Preakness.

Venetian Way, from Isaac Blumberg's Sunny Blue Farm, is back in the Belmont. Others who officially entered this morning were the Cain Hoy Stable's Tooth and Nail, Howard Keck's Negea, the King Ranch's Disperse, the Merrick Stable's John William, and the Green Dunes Farm's Celtic Ash.

With seven going in the Belmont, the purse is a record $150,900, with any winner except Tompion and Tooth and Nail netting $96,785. Those two were supplementary nominees at $5,000 apiece and would get $91,835. The race will be televised and broadcast by CBS with TV from 3:30-4 p.m., EST, and radio starting at 3:45 p.m.

Tooth and Nail, owned by Capt. Harry F. Guggenheim, is listed as second choice at 3 to 1, with Venetian Way next at 4 to 1. However, when the crowd starts working on the parimutuel machines, that order could be reversed.

This is because Eddie Arcaro, who holds the modern record of winning six Belmonts, will be riding Venetian Way. Bill Hartack, who rode him in the Derby and Preakness, will pilot Celtic Ash, who finished third in the Preakness.

Guggenheim, who turned down Arcaro Tuesday after he had

Richert—And Travs—Move Crackers Into First Place

Shreveport Blanked, 4-0

By CHARLIE ROBERTS

The only place for the Crackers is first place, they have insisted all along. Friday night they made it to the pinnacle, hauled there by the powerful left arm of Pete Richert.

Richert was all pitching artist as he weilded the calcimine brush on the Shreveport Sports with five-hit, 11-strike out, 4-0 efficiency.

So 2,937 paying art lovers filed out of Ponce de Leon Park, rushed to their cars, flipped on their radios and heard that Little Rock had bounced Birmingham, 5-2.

That was the good news they wanted. For it meant their Crackers had leapfrogged the Barons into the Southern Assn. leadership.

It was fitting that Richert, the hurling leader for Rube Walker's young troops all season, should be on the firing line the night they won the big one.

In none of his nine victories has the 20-year-old rookie been sharper. Going the route for eighth time in his last nine starts, he walked only two batters in outduelling Buddy Blember, pride and joy of Georgia Tech.

Richert's teammates provided him a 2-0 cushion in the first three innings and the only two times the Sports made threatening gestures, he put down the budding insurresction with sassy flourishes.

Bill kern and Leo Posada singled while Richert was getting one man out in the fourth, but he got manager Les Peden on a pop-up and Jay Ward on a fly.

After Jim Koranda belted his sixth home run, a 400-foot solo shot over the left-center fence in the sixth, Richert rode a 3-0 pad and the Sports threatened him again.

Peden drew the first of the two free passes the youngster handed out and Ward singled him to second. Richert quelled that one by whiffing Chet Boak, Rac Slider and Blemker—second inning in which he fanned the side.

Masterful Richert finished fashioning his second whitewash job of the season in the ninth by making Posada and Ward his 111th and 112th whiff victims of the year. They gave the fireballer a total of 501 strikeouts in 449 innings in his first three pro seasons.

A single by Don Le John and double by Doug Camilii gave him the only run he needed in the second inning. Gene Wallace's single and stolen base plus a Koranda single made it 2-0 an inning later.

Koranda's lusty homer and an unearned run in the eighth were just icing on the Crackers' 12th victory cage in 14 games.

Blemker, who suffered two of his three losses at the hands of the Walkermen, gave up 10 hits and three runs in 6⅓ innings before Dick Donnelly rescued him from a two-men-on situation in the seventh.

Righthander Scott Breeden (3-1) will face the Sports, lefty Gerry Davis (6-5) Saturday night (7:45)

MYRTLE BEACH, S.C. A wave of startling upsets cut down most of the favorites in the Southern Amateur championship Friday, but the Georgia quiet man Cobby Ware survived two pressure-packed rounds and moved boldly into the quarterfinals.

Gone are such classic players as Billy Joe Patton, Dale Morey and Dave Smith, all victims of the "monster" Dunes course and fighting opponents who don't read the dope sheets!

But Ware, the Southern Intercollegiate champ from Augusta, wouldn't be beaten. He staved off Ed Moore of Orangeburg, S.C., 3 and 1, in the morning, then staged a gallant comeback to oust Willis Johnson of Baltimore, Md., 1-up, in the afternoon.

Medalist Patton and his North Carolina pals Smith and Morey didn't have any such luck.

Buzzy Basinger of Charlotte, N.C., a 23-year-old former University of North Carolina star, sidelined Morgantown's Patton, 1-up, in a 23-hole match which had a large gallery cheering in the sunshine.

Smith went out in the third round too, bowing to Raleigh Powell of Wilmington, N.C., 4 and 3. The towering Smith is the North and South champion from Gastonia, N.C.

Earlier in the day, Bert Burdick of Baton Rouge, La., had eliminated Morey, defending Southern champ from Morganton, N.C., 3 and 2, in the second round.

Two other Georgia entries bowed out in the second round, both on hard-luck decisions. Billy Williamson of Charlotte, N.C., edged Atlanta's 15-year-old Tommy Barnes Jr., 1-up, on 18 holes, and Basinger toppled Jimmy Gabrielsen of Athens, 2 and 1.

Barnes was two-down with two holes to play, but rallied like a veteran. He won the 17th with a par, then hit a nine-iron shot 18 inches from the pin on 18. But Williamson rammed in a 20-foot putt for a birdie and they halved the hole. That was it for Tommy.

Gabrielsen, tearing apart the man who beat Patton, led Basinger 4-up after 11 holes and appeared headed for an easy victory. But he lost six holes down the stretch and went to the sidelines.

It'll be Ware against Raleigh

In June and January, Pender Decisions 40-Year-Old Ray

By JACK HAND

BOSTON (AP) — Paul Pender proved himself the champion of 40-year-old Sugar Ray Robinson Friday night by successfully defending his limited version of the world middleweight boxing title on a split 15-round decision.

Shaking off the best punches that Robinson could throw in the early stages of the bout, Pender took command in the middle rounds and stood off a frantic desperation finish by the bedraggled Sugar Man.

Both judges had Pender, a 29-year-old Brookline, Mass., favorite, out front by a comfortable margin. Referee Jim McCarron cast a surprising 146-144 ballot for Robinson. Judge Jim Carrig had it 149-138 for Pender and Judge Johnny Savko 147-142 for the local boy. The AP card war 144-141 in favor of Pender.

When Pender dethroned Sugar Ray Jan. 22 in the same Boston Garden ring on a highly disputed split decision, there were many dissenting shouts from ringside. This time the vote for Pender was extremely popular.

Robinson's siip surely was showing. Time after time he tried to pull the trigger on his right-hand lead but it usually missed fire and sputtered harmlessly over Pender's head.

In the fifth round, Robinson opened with a long right to the side of the head that shook Pender and brought a spray of water from his hair. But he couldn't follow up soon enough and let his man get away.

From the sixth round on, Pender's tactics of "push, pull and shove" paid off. He would beat Robinson more often than not with a left hook. Then he would move in close and beat a tatoo on Robinson's unprotected side with his free right hand. Time after time Referee McCarron had to warn both for rabbit punching. Robinson drew warnings to "keep them up" in the sixth round.

The victory left Pender the 160-pound champ in Massachusetts, New York and Europe.

Gene Fullmer is recognized by the National Boxing Assn. which stripped Roinson of his crown May 4, 1959, long before he lost the two-state version to Pender.

Freeman Holds Phillies, 6-1

Ex-LSU Cager Wins First With Four-Hit Performance

CHICAGO (AP)—Towering Mark Freeman, once a Louisiana State basketball player, registered his first major league victory, scattering four Philadelphia singles as the Chicago Cubs clipped the Phils 6-1 Friday.

The 6-foot-6 inch Freeman was making his second Cub start since he was acquired May 19 from Richmond in a deal with the New York Yankees for pitcher Art Ceccarelli and cash.

Freeman struck out 7, walked 4 and hit 1 batter as he mowed down the last-place Phils who had won four of five previous starts.

The 225-pound right-hander allowed the Phils a single each in the second, in the third—when they scored their run — in the fourth, and in the sixth. The Phils got only one man on base after that when Freeman issued a harmless walk in the eighth.

The loser was Jim Owens (3-6), who was yanked in the fifth and followed by Reuben Gomez and Humberto Robinson.

Freeman, who left LSU as a junior in 1951, had been mainly in the minors since, except for a military hitch. He had a 13-9 record at Seattle last season, including a no-hitter.

After the Cubs scored in the first on Richie Ashburn's single and Ed Bouchee's double, the Phils tied it 1-1 in the third on a walk, an infield out and Tony Taylor's single.

Ernie Banks aided the 29-year-old "rookie" pitcher by belting a two-run homer in the third, his 15th for his 45th and 46th RBI and the clear-cut lead in both departments.

Mancha Steers FSU In Direction of SEC Membership

By AL THOMY
Constitution Sports Writer

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — Athletic Director Vaughn Mancha Friday indicated Florida State University would remain steadfast at the wheel on its course for a berth in the Southeastern Conference.

Vaughn Mancha

There was no hesitation or doubt in Mancha's voice as he said, "Sure, we're interested in the Southeastern Conference and we believe we would be a natural addition, geographically and academically."

FSU, he said, was willing to wait, bide its time for admittance to the SEC.

"I know they voted not to expand at a recent meeting," Mancha said, "But who knows how they will vote next year?"

In the meantime FSU, under the guidance of Mancha and head football coach Bill Peterson, approaches the matter from a logical direction, that of scheduling as many SEC teams as possible.

"We've already got Florida on our schedule each year," continued Mancha. "We play Miami, a non-SEC team, as another natural rival.

"We go back on the Georgia schedule in 1961 and 1964, and there is a two-game series with Georgia Tech in the near future. Auburn is on our schedule for the next three years, and we are talking with Tulane, Mississippi State, Vanderbilt—just say all of the other SEC schools.

"Next best thing to being in the SEC is having an SEC schedule. Our stadium will be enlarged to seat 30,000 next year, and maybe more in the future."

To fill out a big-time schedule in the next few years, Mancha has approached powers of the Southwest and Atlantic Coast Conferences. He is dickering with Baylor, SMU, TCU, Clemson, N.C. State and South Carolina athletic officials.

When Clemson athletic director-head coach Frank Howard passed Mancha here Friday, the FSU AD good naturedly asked "Hey, Frank, why don't you give us that rest game on your schedule?"

Howard pulled out his schedule cards through 1964 and pushed them at Mancha. "Pick a date," he said.

All dates were filled.

Mancha did not surrender. "Send me your 1965 schedule. I may find a date on that one."

A lot of spade work remains in FSU football, and Mancha and Peterson seem to have the rugged type of shoulders to put to the task.

CLINIC NOTES—One thing's for sure, the FSU football clinic is already big time with an all-star instructors' lineup and over 300 coaches in attendance. . . . Asked to appraise his 1960 Louisiana State University team, Paul Dietzel gave this reply. "It's like a man taking a golf shot. He is in the rough and behind a tree. Overhead a heavy branch is in line of his shot to the green and there is a sandtrap beyond it. It is going to be an interesting shot. That's the way I feel about our team—it's going to be an interesting season."

Coaches took many notes when Tom Landry, defensive teaching genius of the New York Giants who switched to Dallas of the American Football League, spoke Friday morning. Landry said the most important things in teaching backfield defense are to instill confidence and show the defenders how to move backwards, a la basketball balance. He said a defensive back moves backwards 75 per cent of the time. . . . Landry said Dick Lynch of the Giants has the quickest reaction of any boy he has coached, and he chose Ray Berry of the Baltimore Colts as the pro end with the best moves.

Georgia high school coaches here include Matthew Arthur, M. L. Atkins, Howard Brenner, Jack Bush, Jim Cavan, Max Dowis, William Fulwood, Frank Giles, Bo Gudger, Clyde Harrell, Charlie Horne, Oliver Hunnicutt, Frank Inman, French Johnson, C. L. Jones, J. L. Jones, Ray Knight, G. D. Lee, Bob Logan, Bill Lunday, C. O. Kell, Crawford Kennedy, Leon McCord, Fred McManus, Harvey McNease, Bill Maginnis, Bill Meeks, Reid Moseley, Joe O'Malley, Earl O'Neal, Ken Paxton, Jack Peek, Wilson Stephenson, Dan Theodocion, Lawrence Thompson, Roland Wardlaw and Ken Ford.

AND QUOTES: LSU Coach Paul Dietzel said he is not happy at all. "They say Georgia Tech and Ole Miss are almost impossible to beat at home," he lamented, "and we've got them in Atlanta and Oxford." He added: "How's this for scheduling? Georgia Tech hasn't been on our schedule for the past two years. We lost most of our players in 1960, and they're back." . . . Spotted in the crowd: Tech assistants Charlie Tate and Dick Inman, Georgia coaches Wyatt Posey and Jackie Roberts and Auburn representatives Buck Bradberry, Gene Lorendo, Joe Connally and Hal Herring. . . . Clemson Coach Frank Howard, here to lecture at Florida A&M, denied he said Maryland Coach Tom Nugent would never beat him. "I didn't say it, but it does sound like me," smiled Howard. P.S. Nugent beat Howard last year.

BOSTON (AP) — The Chicago White Sox jumped on faltering Boston pitching for a six-run burst in the fourth inning Friday night and romped to a 13-3 rout of the down-trodden Red Sox.

The Boston loss, its seventh straight and 24th in the last 29 games, came after the Red Sox announced that Billy Jurges had been fired as manager. Jurges was relieved of his command two days ago when he was ordered by doctors to take a rest:

Charlie Tidwell Ties 100-Meter Dash Mark

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Charlie Tidwell of Kansas tied the world record in the 100-meter dash Friday night as he raced to a :10.1 clocking in the invitational track and field Meet of Champions.

The defending NCAA 100-yard champion had tied the meet record of :10.3 in the afternoon while pacing preliminary heats in which Ira Murchison, who shares the world record, and Bobby Morrow, the 1956 Olympic winner, failed to make the finals.

Tidwell finished the final a yard ahead of Stone Johnson of Grambling University who had a :10.3. Also clocked at :10.3 were Dave Sime, formerly of Duke, and Bill Woodhouse, a former teammate of Morrow at Abilene Christian.

Murchison posted his :10.1 for 100 meters in 1956 to share the record with William Williams. The mark later was tied in California by Leamon King and Ray Norton.

John Thomas of Boston University won the high jump at 7 feet. He failed in three attempts at 7-2, a mark that would have bettered his pending world record by a half inch. It was the 27th time for Thomas cleared 7 feet.

Lee Calhoun, defending Olympic champino, tied the meet record by leading 110-meter hurdles qualifiers with a 14.1.

Meet records were also set in two of three afternoon field event finals.

Bill Alley of Kansas hurled the javelin 273 feet 10½ inches, the best distance recorded in the United States this year. Dick Crane of Auburn set a new discus mark of 170 feet 3 inches.

Jerry Dyes of Northeast Louisiana won the hop, step and jump at 47 feet, 5 inches.

Allen's mark broke a record of 238 feet 2½ inches set by Bill Duckworth of Georgia in 1957. Duckworth was runnerup Friday with 252 feet 8 inches.

Murchison and Morrow fifth and sixth in the heat in which Tidwell got his afternoon 10.3 in the 100. Minutes earlier in the first heat Sime tied the record 10.4 set by Bobby Whilden of Texas in 1956.

Yanks Halt Tribe's Streak With Mantle's Home Run, 4-3

Ditmar Winner For New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey Mantle's eighth-inning home run, his fourth in three games, cracked a tie and ended Cleveland's winning streak at five Friday night as the New York Yankees defeated the first-place Indians, 4-3, in the opener of a four-game series.

The loss, third in 10 games for the Indians, cut their American League lead to a half-game over the Baltimore Orioles, who defeated Kansas City 5-4.

It was the fourth straight success for the third-place Yankees and their sixth in seven games, pushing them within 2½ games of the Tribe.

Right-hander Art Ditmar was the winner, blanking the Indians on two hits over the last four innings after blowing a 3-1 lead.

Mantle's shot, his 12th of the year, tagged Dick Stigman with his third straight defeat. The southpaw reliever now has a 2-4 record, although he retired 10 of the 13 men he faced after relieving starter Larry Locke in the fifth inning.

The Yankees scored their other three in the third, on a walk, a double by Cletis Boyer and singles by Ditmar, Hector Lopez and Mantle.

The game drew a crowd of 46,030—largest of the year at Yankee Stadium.

Trainer Max Hirsch then obtained Sammy Boulmetis as Disperse's rider. Willie Shoemaker, who won last year with Sword Dancer and in 1957 with Gallant Man, rides Tompion. Ray York is aboard Nagea and Hedley Woodhouse on John William. Guerin won the 1953 Belmont with Native Dancer, and with High Gun in 1954. Arcaro won with Whirlaway (1941), Shut Out (1942), Pavot (1945), Citation (1948) One Count (1952) and Nashua (1955).

Tompion, who won the Santa Anita Derby and Blue Grass Stakes before the Kentucky Derby, moved into prominence again May 30 at Garden State Park. On that occasion, he battled Bally Ache all down the homestretch before losing a neck decision in the Jersey Derby.

Joseph L. Arnold of Lexington, Ky., head of the Turfland Syndicate, gave out the news of Bally Ache's injury after the colt worked out Friday morning. He said it wasn't serious, but his group wanted to gake no chances.

Palmer 66 Takes Lead In OC Golf

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Arnold Palmer, returning to the professional golf tour with a vengeance, came through with a 5-under-par 66 Friday to take the second round lead in the $30,000 Oklahoma City Open with a 36-hole score of 134.

The strong hitter from Ligonier, Pa., golf's top money winner this year with some $50,000 in his pocket, shot nines of 33-33 over the 6,440 yard Twin Hills Country Club course with a par of 35-36—71.

Palmer missed the cutoff at Indianapolis two weeks ago for the first time in two years and skipped the Memphis Open last week because of other commitments.

Palmer got around this tree-infested course in 68 in the opening round and then assumed command of the tournament with his sensational round Friday. He ELMSFORD, N.Y. (AP)—Veteran Louise Suggs, of Atlanta, Ga., stroked into the lead with a plus 30 total after three rounds of the women's professional 90-hole Round Robin Golf Tournament at the Knollwood County Club Friday.

Also with plus totals after three rounds were veteran Betty Jameson, San Antonio, Tex., plus 11, Ruth Jessen of Seattle, plus 7, and Marilynn Smith of French Lick, Ind., plus four.

Dahlbender Fires 67 For Sunnehanna 2nd

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Juan Antonio Estrade of Durango, Mexico, and Richard Crawford of Jacksonville, Ark., both long-ball hitters, Friday shared medalist honors after the first round of the seventh annual Sunnehanna Tournament of Amateur golf champions.

Estrade, the 1960 Mexican Amateur champion, and Crawford whose 1959 conquests included winning the National Intercollegiate, Southern Amateur and Colonial Invitation, posted four-under-par 66s to lead a 37-man field on the Sunnehanna Country Club course's par 35-35—70. Twenty-one shot par golf or better under a blazing sun.

One stroke behind the dual leaders with 67s are Jack Rule, the Iowa amateur champ from Waterloo, and Gene Dahlbender of Atlanta, the 1956 Sunnehanna champ with the tourney record of 276.

Seven players were grouped at 69, while in the seven-man 70 group was Tommy Aaron, the Walker Cupper from Gainesville, Ga., who won last year's Sunnehanna with 277.

Orioles Swap for Stephens, Call Hoeft, Activate Triandos

Jurges Fired By Red Sox

From Press Dispatches

The Baltimore Orioles, reeling after four straight defeats, made a series of moves involving players Friday.

Most important was the trading of outfielder Willie Tasby to the Boston Red Sox for Gene Stephens. They also recalled relief pitcher Billy Hoeft from Miami of the International League and put catcher Gus Triandos back on active status.

The swap of outfielders was a straight-up deal involving no cash. Tasby, an early candidate for rookie-of-the-year honors in 1959 before sagging at the plate, said he hopes the deal will enable him to regain stride. He has hit only .212 and batted in three runs this season.

Stephens, a 27-year-old left-handed hitter, has a batting average of .229 in 33 games for Boston this year and a lifetime major-league average of .248.

Hoeft, a 20-game winner for Detroit in 1956, was a 4-5 for Miami this season.

Triandos was the Orioles' leading team slugger until he sustained a thumb injury last August. He had been on the disabled list since May 7.

MORE BASEBALL—Rod Kanehl is being sent from Houston to Nashville on option by the New York Yankees. He replaces Wally Lammers, who is being returned to Charleston, W. Va. . . . John Morris, 18, Lewes, Del., southpaw pitcher, says he received $25,000 from the Phillies. . . . Walter O. (Spike) Briggs, 48, former president of the Tigers, remained on the serious list in a Vermont hospital. . . . Billy Jurges received his unconditional release as Red Sox manager. Del Baker is the acting manager.

TENNIS — Ron Holmberg defeated Ian Vermack of South Africa, 9-7, 8-6, in the semis of the West of England tenis set. He plays Mexico's Antonio Palafox in the finals. . . . Britain eliminated Belgium and France and gained a 2-0 lead over Denmark in the quarters of the European zone Davis Cup, tennis meet. . . . Earl Buchholz, St. Louis, upset favored Neale Fraser of Australia, 6-3, 6-4, and went into the final of the Kent Tennis tourney against Bob Mark of Australia.

Ray Gunkel, Corsicans Win

The Mighty Yankee beat Chief Little Eagle in the semifinal. Gilbert and Gene Corsica wrestled to a draw in the opener.

ONE THING ABOUT IT: HE NEVER QUIT TRYING

MYRTLE BEACH, S.C.—If players in the championship bracket of the Southern Amateur think they're having it tough on the "monster" Dunes course, maybe they should consider the plight of 71-year-old G. H. Hodges.

The retired minister of Myrtle Beach, who's playing in the Seniors' division, shot a 34 on the par five 18th hole Friday. He was doing well until the finish and wound up with a 126. He's normally an 80s shooter.

Mr. Hodges hit 13 balls into the water, borrowed all the balls his partners had available, and even borrowed one ball from a fellow in the foursome behind him.

And how does a fellow feel when he shoots a 34? Does he feel like swearing even though he's a minister?

"I didn't swear," explained Mr. Hodges. "I just said, 'Praise the Lord and pass the ammunition.' "—WILLIAMS

Yankee Beater

CHICAGO (AP)—Russ Kemmerer, Chicago White Sox pitcher, beat the Yankees three times in 1959 as a member of the Washington Senators.

TRIED BOSTON TWICE, SUGAR NOW WANTS N.Y.

BOSTON (AP)—"I gave him two chances in Boston, now he should give me one in New York."

A tired Sugar Ray Robinson almost whispered the words with a faint smile in his dressing room after losing his second 15 round split decision to Paul Pender in the Massachusetts-New York and European version of the middleweight boxing championship.

Between mouthfuls of ice handed to him by his handlers, the aging Sugar Man—more pale than he looked in the ring—said if he couldn't get a rematch with Pender he didn't know about his future.

"Would the 40-year-old Sugar Man hang up the gloves for good?

"I don't know yet," he answered softly.

"Robinson won 10 rounds but got another Boston decision" shouted his advisors, George Gainford. "That is why I wrote Sen. Kefauver to watch it on television."

Gainford two days ago said he had asked Sen. Estes Kefauver (Tenn) who is heading a congressional committee investigating boxing, to look in for possible misjustice.

"Pender won it, that was enough," Robinson continued. "I never plan a fight in advance. I wasn't rusty. I just didn't have enough to win.

"I thought I had him in the fifth with that right hand to the jaw. But I lost him.

"I tried to finish strong. But the judges made the decision. I didn't."

—FIELD OF 300 EXPECTED—

MIKE FRANKS ODDS-ON BET FOR NO. 1 SOUTHERN SEED

By TED SIMMONS

The list of entries for the Southern Amateur Tennis Tournament is beginning to read like a tennis Who's Who.

A host of fine players joined the field Friday as the deadline for entering approached, and from the looks of things this year's meet will not only be one of the biggest Southerns ever, but one of the best.

Among the contenders for the men's singles title when play starts at Bitsy Grant Tennis Center Monday will be such standout performers as Mike Franks, Lester Sack, Harry Hoffman Jr., Bill Lenoir, Bob Nichols, Cliff Buchholz, Francois Godbout, Eduardo Zulueta, and plenty more to keep the name droppers busy.

By the time the entries close at noon Saturday the field is expected to have reached 300, with more than a 64-draw in men's singles.

This is the third time since Bitsy Grant was built six years ago that the center has been the site for the Southern, and according to Bitsy Grant pro Jack Rodgers this field is the best he's seen.

"We've had plenty of good players," Rodgers said Friday, "but never so many who are as well known nationally."

Best known of the latest additions is Franks, who ranks seventh in the nation in singles and third, with Barry MacKay, in doubles.

Franks is an odds-on bet for top seeding, but he won't lack for competition when the swinging starts. Godbout is a Canadian Davis Cupper, who took a set from Rod Laver in the cup matches last year.

Zulueta is one of Equador's top players. He comes from good tennis country—Pancho Segura's home town.

Nichols, an Atlanta native, is third ranking player in the South. Sack is the current Georgia state champion. Lenoir, from Phoenix, Ariz., by way of Athens, is a member of the Junior Davis Cup team, as is Frank Bertrum, who is also entered.

The ladies also got in on the act again Friday. Susan Sterrett, of the University of Illinois, and Beverly Tolan Cansler, were two of the late comers. Sterrett was runner-up in last year's Orange Bowl tournament. Tolan, formerly of St. Louis and Atlanta, was ranked No. 7 in women's doubles and a member of the Junior Wightman team two years ago.

Although entries were still coming Friday night, the field appeared to be shaping up like this: a better than 64-draw in men's singles; 40 or more in women's singles, and at least 32 in all other events — men and women's doubles, senior's singles and doubles, mixed doubles and the father-and-son.

Men's singles competition starts Monday, women's singles Tuesday, and all other events Wednesday. Pairings and starting times will be announced in Monday's Constitution.

Cascade Elks To Greet Flag Day

The Cascade Elks Lodge is getting off to a flying start on the celebration of Flag Day. It will note the 183rd anniversary of the adoption of the flag Sunday—two days earlier than the official day.

The Continental Congress adopted the Stars and Stripes as the nation's banner on June 14, 1777.

The Cascade Lodge will hold its observance at Cascade Road Presbyterian Church at 2:30 p.m. Sunday. The pastor, the Rev. Walter Miller Crowe, will speak.

STEALING CARS FOR KICKS ENDS ABRUPTLY FOR TEEN-AGERS

Police Search 16-Year-Old's Pockets for Dangerous Weapons

Teens Who Steal Cars Will Find the Kicks Fall Flat

For the majority of teen-agers juvenile court and detention home are just words about which they hear or read. But for too many young people the detention home is their home and a day in the court is a day of reckoning.

The teens who steal a car, hubcaps or shoplift for "kicks" often times find the penalty they pay is greater than the "kicks" they get from the stunt.

A lanky 16-year-old boasted about driving to school every so often in a different car. Then one day he never arrived on the school grounds to brag about his latest steal. He was picked up by the police and taken to the juvenile home, where he was logged and his parents notified.

Because of the seriousness of his offense he was kept at the detention home rather than being released in the custody of his parents. His beligerent attitude, attempted escape and deliberately breaking his own arm caused him to be transferred to a hospital ward in Fulton Tower.

TOUGH CRIMINALS

There he came to know what tough criminals are like. He met a teen-ager serving a life term for killing a man and he sat up with an alcoholic sick with the D.T.'s.

Such an experience jarred him into reality that he too could be one of these very people serving a long-term sentence. He wrote Judge W. W. Woolfolk, of the Juvenile Court, a letter from the Tower and asked to talk to him again.

Once a defiant, rebellious teen-ager, he was now crying unashamedly and begging for another chance to "go straight." He told the judge that he hoped he would have a chance to caution other teen-agers who, like him, seeked excitement in the wrong alley.

But some of these boys and girls who openly repent their sins before the court return for a second, third and sometimes fourth time.

A teen-ager can find himself at one of the state's training schools before he can count to 10. And he may remain there until he reaches 21 or is released by the authorities. This depends on the seriousness of his offense and his attitude and conduct.

BETTER THAN HOME

While the care, attention, food, staff and bunks are good at the Fulton County Juvenile Detention Home, they aren't the happy things one dreams of living with. But sometimes this place is better than their own home.

One of the few things a deliquent teen-ager has to look forward to each day is an ice cream soda. But this doesn't come easy. A room must be found spotless and neat as a pin to win one of these goodies for the occupant.

School work is not forgotten in the home. A school session is held twice a day for a total of two and a half hours. But to balance out the day there is supervised recreation and television privileges.

The staff at the detention home recognizes that the children they receive are disturbed people—95 per cent are emotionally upset when they are admitted. Staff members attempt to get at the root of their trouble and send them out the door a well adjusted, law-abiding citizen.

Water Safety Rules

With summer and the opening of swimming pools it may help to review safety rules for the water.

Avoid water accidents by following these simple precautions:

1. Never swim alone.
2. Wait one hour after meals before swimming.
3. Avoid swimming when overheated or tired.
4. Swim close to shore. If muscle cramps occur, leave the water at once.
5. Do not swim from boats in deep water.
6. If your boat capsizes, stay with it.
7. Never stand or change position in boats or attempt stunts.
8. Do not take any dares.
9. Avoid panic.

DOROTHY RICKER

Their Behavior Affected A New, Nameless Life

DEAR MRS. RICKER:

My boy friend and I have been going together for a little over two years. At first we were just friends, then we fell in love. Recently we did something which will hang over our heads as long as we live. We are both Christians and we forgot God and our morals. We came to our senses a few days ago when I discovered I am pregnant. We are truly sorry for what we did.

We know we must take our punishment and we are willing. Our parents are good Christians and when they find out (we plan to tell them) we are afraid of what will happen. We want to get married but we're not sure they will let us. Mrs. Ricker, although we have sinned we want to keep the baby. That is our biggest fear—not what they will do to us but will they let us keep our baby?

We have thought of talking to our pastor but we think we should talk to our parents first. Should we tell both sets of parents together, or separately? How can we tell them so they won't think this situation happened through any neglect on their part?—Worried Boy and Girl.

DEAR WORRIED YOUNGSTERS:

When you tell your parents the bad news they undoubtedly will be shaken to the core, but if they are truly religious people they will do everything possible to help you and the baby you have created.

You didn't mention your ages but if you have been going together for over two years I presume you must be at least 16 or 17. If that is correct and you really want to get married, I think you should be allowed to do so—under the circumstances. As for telling your parents—if they are friends it might be best to tell them together. If not, you should tell them separately and then arrange for them to meet.

Whether or not you can convince them that your early training (or lack of it) is not at least partly responsible for your present perdicament, I don't know.

Your type of tragedy is, unfortunately, happening more and more often. I firmly believe that going steady is 85 per cent responsible. There are many basically good youngsters who would never even consider becoming deeply involved with a casual date but, after going steady over a period of time they gradually discard their moral standards.

Their behavior affects a new, innocent life—a baby, who is entitled to something better than starting life as just another nameless tot waiting for adoption or with parents who married only because of necessity.

Facial Expression

A leading beauty expert says the most important thing a woman wears is the expression on her face.

"If as much time were spent in practicing smiling and pleasant facial expressions as is used in putting on makeup, a great many girls would be far more attractive," says John Robert Powers.

Chips, Franks and Pie Are Favorite Teen Foods

American boys and girls select potato chips, frankfurters and pie as their favorite foods, according to a recent survey.

The annual National Children's Preference Study, conducted by the American Hobby Federation, found that potato chips are the number one choice in vegetables. This, believe it or not, is followed by spinach, carrots, green peas, beets, string beans, pickles, celery and olives.

To the question, "What is your favorite meat?" youngsters rated them as follows: Frankfurters, hamburgers, chicken, steak, veal, roast beef, ham, turkey, pork and lamb. Both lamb and veal have never finished in the top ten in previous studies.

Symbolic Earrings

SEVILLE, Spain (WNS)—The new fad for romantic young beauties is to wear only one earring that dangles from the left ear. The right earring is worn by the girl's fiance, made into a ring for his finger.

Memory and Hands Are Her Fortune

By BETTY CARROLLTON

Many mothers condemn the violence viewed by innocent young eyes on such televised "kiddie shows" as The Three Stooges. But Mama's discerning eyes skim over the sadism of merry animated films that send her little lambs into gales of laughter. (She fails to catch the vindictive theme that showcases most cartoon plots. Particularly the format by which a pair of rodent rascals romp under the shadow of a fierce feline.)

"Those 'Tom and Jerry' cartoons are the most sadistic films I've ever seen," declared Delores Rubin, who rates somewhat as an expert on the world's most glamorous industry.

A brunette with snapping brown eyes, Delores has worked closely with numerous top stars on everything from Cartoons to multimillion-dollar historical epics. One of Hollywood's best-known script supervisors, she drew the Tom and Jerry cartoons before launching her current career by working with The Three Stooges and The Bowery Boys.

EARLY DAYS

"That was in their early days, of course," Delores said in Atlanta, where she is sounding the trumpets in behalf of the forthcoming film, "Portrait in Black." The shapely visitor worked on the movie, a behind-the-camera guide to perfection for Lana Turner, Anthony Quinn, Sandra Dee, Richard Basehart, John Saxon and Anna May Wong.

"I remember the Stooges and Bowery Boys as real comedy-makers," she continued. "There was no sadism, and if there was any real violence, it was aimed at getting laughs. But cartoon characters resort to all kinds og sadistic trickery to escape the villain, who always reacts with violence."

Delores has a job that requires no violence—just an energetic woman with extra-peripheral vision, a fantastic memory, unlimited patience and a steel nervous system. Knowing exactly what everyone is doing during every second of a scene is only one of her responsibilities: She must be able to recall any scene, in exact detail, months later.

WEEKS LATER

For "Portrait in Black," Lana Turner did a scene on location in San Francisco early in the shooting schedule. "She got out of a car," Delores recalled, crossed a sidewalk and entered a store. Six weeks later, the scene was continued in Hollywood, showing Lana as she moved through the store to a rendezvous with Anthony Quinn."

Before the camera rolled on the scene in Hollywood, the director asked his script girl: "How should Lana appear at the start?"

In less time than it takes an Olympic sprinter to dash a hundred yards, Miss Rubin zipped through her voluminous looseleaf notebook, glanced at a few scribblings and had the answer ready: "Her fur coat was slightly open, the collar was up, her right arm was dropping after she had brushed back a curl, the doorman was just reaching for the door, the car was easing away from the curb and a milk truck was coming down the street at about 15 miles an hour. In the foreground, a lady in a dark brown wool coat was just laying two wrapped packages on a counter."

That was one of the easier questions Delores is called upon to answer a dozen times daily. Scenes in which actors smoke, drink or eat are bigger problems.

LENGTH OF ASH

"When such actions have to be matched later during the filming," she explained, "I have to know the length of the cigarette ash, amount of liquid still in a glass, portions of food still on a plate."

She supplements her fantastic memory with a special code of cartoon shorthand, scribbling drawings on the script pages. "Months later I can match every physical move with every word of dialogue," Delores said.

Delores left the University of California in her junior year to take a job as messenger girl at 20th Century-Fox. In her spare time, she tinted copies of the famous Betty Grable World War II pin-up picture for requesting movie fans. Her artistic ability led her into the field of animated cartoons at MGM.

Her big break came after an assignment to disc jockey for Ann Sothern during the shooting of "Maisie Goes to Reno." In those days, MGM provided stars with someone to play their favorite records between scenes. Miss Sothern, living up to her reputation for helping willing youngsters, got Delores her chance to apprentice as a script supervisor.

Except for a five-year hiatus following a marriage that finally ended in divorce, Miss Rubin has been supervising scripts steadily since her first assignment.

"I have no desire to be an actress," Delores declared.

"Actresses have to work hard at being glamorous," she observed, "and that takes the glamour out of it. I wear all kinds of attire at work—jeans and shirt for Westerns; shorts on location in Arizona, high heels and pretty dresses on location at a big hotel in San Francisco."

But she maintains a membership in the Screen Extras Guild: "That's for my hands," Miss Rubin explained. "They've appeared in more than a dozen films—opening letters, pressing door buzzers, writing notes, even pulling triggers on guns."

Art School Fills Niche in Lives Of Its Students

By BARBARA BRIGHT

Tempera and oils had dried, and the graduates and students of the Atlanta Art Institute had washed and scraped the paint from their hands and beneath their nails.

Before Friday night's graduation exercises at the only professional art school in the state of Georgia, students had scurried frantically around the Great Gallery of the Atlanta Art Museum, hammer, saw, nails and paintings in hand,installing and hanging the end-of-the-year show.

The show, which is on display until June 24, includes examples of students' work in advertising design, illustration, painting, sculpture, life drawing, photography, interior design, watercolor painting, fashion layouts, graphics, and calligraphy.

The school fills a peculiar niche in the lives of its students. Some are the bearded bohemian or beatnik types who frequent the coffee houses of Atlanta, dressed in paint-smeared khaki trousers and sandals or tennis shoes. Others are housewives, who rush through the supper hour with their husband and children to dash for an hour or three of instruction in interior design at the old gabled building at 1236 Peachtree, NE.

As the students differ in personality and looks, so do their motives for study differ. Homer Herrington, 25, and a native of Hazlehurst, a graduate in painting who received a four-year professional diploma, plans to continue his painting now that his school training is completed.

"I hope to make a living by doing free-lance work . . . practically any kind. That's the work I've done to pay for my tuition.

Mrs. Patricia Shives was one of the students who received special three-year certificates in interior design from the night school. A housewife, she took the course "purely for my own information and employment."

Her course of study at the one-night-a-week classes included the history of furniture, drawings of room arrangements, and study of colors and fabrics.

"Since I'm not going into the professional field of interior design," Mrs. Shives said, "I was most interested in the research and history part of the work. I particularly liked the student reports on subjects related to interior design . . . like the history of wallpaper."

An Atlanta student who received a three-year professional certificate in advertising design, Edward J. Banke, said he first chose to attend the Atlanta Art Institute because "it was close."

"I had a lifelong ambition to be an artist," he said, "though I was a little late in getting started." Mr. Banke, who is 31 and a veteran, had worked as a machinist and almost completed his college work before beginning his art training.

"When I first started attending the institute, I was surprised at the number of elderly ladies who were in the classes. But I found out that these people get a great enjoyment out of art, and very often they are fine portrait artists."

Isabelle Scarborough's Election as President Of Debutantes Is Announced at Bal de Salut

Next winter's debutantes have chosen Isabelle Scarborough as their president, the announcement having been made last night as the high spot of the first Bal de Salut held at the Driving Club by members of last season's Debutante Club.

Other officers chosen to serve with Miss Scarborough were Gail Thurman, vice president; Ansley Boyd, secretary, and Winnie Wilson, treasurer.

Announcement of the officers was made following the Debutante Procession which ended in a huge circle in the ballroom. Margaret Poer, president of last winter's Debutante Club, presented the new president the silver rose at the end of the garland the girls carried, after which Nancy Beers, vice president of the 1959-60 club, announced the slate of officers.

Immediately afterward the new debs and their escorts swung into the Debutante Waltz while Lester Lanin's orchestra played a medley of waltzes from "Der Rosenkavalier."

BRIDE-ELECT MARY CROOK will be honor guest when Mrs. Bernard L. Shackleford entertains at luncheon on Monday at her Blackland road home. Miss Crook's marriage to Hall Caldwell Howard Jr. of Mobile takes place June 18.

THAT RENOWNED ARTIST in stained glass, Dr. Henry Lee Willet, arrives Monday from Philadelphia for a brief visit to his sister, Mrs. Thomas H. English, and Dr. English on N. Decatur road.

At the recent graduation exercises held at the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, Dr. Willet was presented an illuminated scroll in recognition of his family's contributions in stained glass to the Cadet Chapel over the past 50 years. His father designed and executed the huge window in the sanctuary, and after his father's death, his mother was commissioned to do the great window opposite the sanctuary.

All of the chapel windows have been done by the Willets, Dr. Willet's son, Crosby, representing the third generation. Each graduating class at the academy contributes two new windows to the chapel and they are all made by Dr. Willet and his associates.

MRS. CHESTER E. MARTIN and Mrs. Emmet Cabaniss of Maxeys leave Sunday for Washington, D.C., to attend the convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs at the Sheraton Park. Mrs. Cabaniss, as president of the Georgia Federation, will present Congresswoman Iris Blitch at the "Salute to Women" banquet on Monday evening.

Mrs. Martin, as chairman of religion for the General Federation, will install the Southeastern regional officers on Tuesday evening, give the devotional on International Day Wednesday, and report on the work of her division on Friday.

AINSLEY GOULD left yesterday for New York to spend 10 days with her grandfather, Jay Gould, before leaving for France to spend the summer at the MacKannet Camps in the French Alps. She will return to Atlanta Sept. 6.

K. WILSON CORDER and his daughter, Carol, have returned from Durham, N.C., where the latter was graduated "with distinction" from Duke University.

Carol will spend the summer in Atlanta, but in the fall she will go to Paris, France, where she will do post graduate work in her chosen field of political science at the Sorbonne.

A Toast To the Queen

Granville Ramage, Atlanta's British consul, lifts high his glass with two of his campatriots, Mrs. Alec Robertson, left, and Mrs. F. G. C. Robinson, in a toast to Her Royal Highness, Queen Elizabeth II. The occasion was the celebration of the Queen's birthday at a party at which Mr. and Mrs. Ramage were hosts at their Peachtree road residence. Their guests all joined in a toast to President Eisenhower and to Queen Elizabeth. (Staff Photo Dwight Ross.)

Tired List Pushes Statistics to Upside

NEW YORK (AP)—A tired and irregular stock market managed to carve out a statistical gain despite widespread profit taking on this week's phenomenal advance.

High-priced blue chips, which gave Thursday's irregular market a rise based on popular averages, were trimmed by moderate profit taking. Meanwhile, trading interest shifted to an assortment of secondary issues, some of which did quite well.

Action by a powerful Senate committee, which recommended an 84-million-dollar boost in funds to rush into operation a spy-in-the-sky satellite, helped the principal contractor, Radio Corp., to a gain of 1⅝ in active dealings, as well as some other electronics.

Nine of the 15 most active stocks advanced, five declined and one was unchanged.

Pennsylvania Railroad was the most active stock, up ⅜. Two early blocks of 40,000 and 27,300 shares boosted this stock into top place.

Texas Instruments rose 4½ and Varian Associates 3⅝ in response to plans for more spending on space age defense.

General Bronze fell 1⅝ after reducing the dividend.

American Stock Exchange prices were mixed.

Profits Hit A Record $4 Billion

Sales for Quarter Set Mark, Too

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Manufacturing corporations chalked up record first quarter sales and profits this year, the government reported Friday.

Their after-tax profits totaled $4,000,000,000, $200,000,000 above the first quarter of 1959. But the total was well below the $4,900,000,000 earned in the second quarter of 1959.

Profit margins rose to 4.7 cents per sales dollar in the first quarter, up 0.2 cents from the closing months of 1959 and unchanged from a year ago.

Sales of manufacturing corporations, bolstered by heavy demand for steel and automobiles, set a first quarter record of $85,700,000,000. This was unchanged from the last quarter of 1959 and up 6 per cent from the first quarter of 1959.

A report by the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Federal Trade Commission said most major manufacturing industries posted profit increases in the first quarter of the year.

Among those whose profits set records for the quarter were motors, iron and steel, electrical machinery, instruments, tobacco, chemicals, rubber, and plastic products.

Failing to report higher first quarter earnings were aircraft, stone-clay-glass, fabricated metal products, lumber, alcoholic beverages, apparel, and furnitures and fixtures.

The commission reported that manufacturing corporations increased their assets by $3,600,000,000 in the first quarter to a March 31 total of $247,700,000,000. Net working capital rose by $900,000,000,000. Stockholders' equity increased by $2,300,000,000 to a total of $162,500,000,000.

Frigidaire To Lay Off 1,150 in 2 Weeks

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — About 1,150 production employes will be laid off in two weeks, a spokesman for the Frigidaire division of General Motors Corp. reported. He blamed a "nationwide softness in appliance sales."

He said the June 24 layoffs will reduce Frigidaire employmen to about 15,000. Pointing out the firm's plants were on short schedules the weeks before and after Memorial Day for the same reason, Frigidaire said appliance sales of all firms have been lagging nationally.

THAT'S WHAT G-E EXPERT SAYS

Atomic Autos? Not Until 1990s

Remember all that talk in the '40s about the atomic age of travel—atomic cars, atomic buses and that sort of thing? Well, it's all off, at least till the end of the century.

The authority for this is Francis K. McCune, vice president of engineering services for the General Electric Co. In a press conference at the Dinkler Plaza Hotel Friday, he said:

"I never expect to see an atomic-powered automobile or locomotive. I can't think of an application of atomic energy where you would gain anything over oil or gas."

On the other hand, said McCune, the earth's supply of coal and gas and oil quite likely will be gone by the year 2000. Or almost gone.

USED UP HALF

"It took millions of years for all the coal and oil to be put here," he said, "and we've probably used up half of it in the last hundred years.

"I think it will be the end of the century before there's any great problem, but someday our chemical fuel is bound to run out and we're going to have to find other ways to get about.

"I don't think we have to worry, though—we've always been ingenious enough to do what we needed to do, even if it costs a little more."

McCune, tall, lean, gray-haired, is in Atlanta to speak Saturday at Georgia Tech commencement exercises. He talks like an atomic energy expert but he talks even more like an ELECTRICAL energy expert.

WON'T REPLACE

As to when atomic power will replace electric power, McCune's answer was clear: "Never," he said. "Atomic energy is mostly heat and you can't send heat down a wire."

And yet, atomic power has been used already as a generator for electricity. But this use of atomic power is entirely auxiliary. It's relationship to an electric power plant is the same as the relationship of wind to a windmill.

McCune spent seven weeks in 1959 inspecting atomic energy facilities in the Soviet Union. "They wouldn't let us see their atomic weapons or their material for atomic weapons, but we did see their atomic power plants. And they're not nearly as far along as we are.

"They say they're doubling their power every seven years. We say we're doubling ours every 10 years—but every year we're putting in MORE than they are; so, they are getting farther and farther behind every year, and that's a fact."

CAUGHT HERE

Prisoner Identified as Life-Termer

A burglary suspect, who had declined an opportunity to shoot it out with an Atlanta detective, was identified Friday through police records as an escaped convict owing Georgia more than a lifetime in sentences.

Identification officers listed the suspect as Emory Alvin Goodman, 31, of Abbeville, who escaped June 3 from the Pulaski County prison at Hawkinsville. Records show Goodman was serving sentences totaling life plus 65 years.

Detectives H. J. Standridge and W. E. Harwell said Goodman was convicted Nov. 16, 1956, in 14 middle Georgia counties on 11 counts of burglary, five counts of robbery, kidnaping, four counts of auto larceny and narcotics.

Surprised by police while attempting to tunnel through the back wall of a supermarket on Memorial Drive at Frazier street, SE, Goodman gave his name as "Kent" and said he had just arrived in Atlanta from North Carolina.

Patrolman Paul DuPree, working an extra job at the Capitol Homes housing project, discovered the burglary attempt Thursday night. Standridge walked into a compression shack at the rear of the store and found Goodman, armed with a loaded .38-caliber pistol, hiding under cardboard boxes.

Standridge said Goodman dropped the gun when ordered to do so.

13th Bellboy Seized in Push Against Vice

A thirteenth hotel bellboy was arrested late Friday on charges of soliciting for prostitution in the vice squad drive against the call-girl racket here, police said.

He was identified as Robert Thurmond of a Simpson road, NW, address, held at Fulton Tower under $5,000 bond. Warrants for the arrest of 25 were obtained in Fulton Criminal court.

Meanwhile, Detectives C. T. Brooks and A. E. McKinnon said Calvin McLendon, who was arrested Thursday resided in the southwest section of Atlanta and not at 505 Lindsey St., NW, the address listed.

Weather Bureau Forecast

Hoosier Mother of 4 Crowned Mrs. America

FT. LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Mrs. George E. Murphy of Kentland, Ind., was crowned Friday night as Mrs. America.

The brunette, 31, mother of four sons and a daughter, said she was honored and grateful.

"I'm going to begin my reign by going to church and thank God for the privilege of living in America."

She was selected as the nation's top homemaker over entrants from 49 other states and the District of Columbia.

Days of grueling contests in cooking, hair-styling, interior decorating and laundering preceded the choice of the statuesque matron who is 5 feet 8½ inches tall and weighs 140 pounds. Mrs. Murphy wore a white evening gown and held a sheaf of red roses as her victory was announced.

Mrs. Jack O'Connor, 31, of Granite Falls, Minn., was the runner-up. Third place went to Mrs. Robert Clemens of Savannah, Ga.

NEW STARS GLOW

Pops Thrills Big Crowd in First Night

The Atlanta Pops Orchestra opened its 15th summer season before its largest first-night audience at Chistain Memorial Park Friday night with a couple of old chestnuts and a host of new stars.

Director by Albert Coleman, the 55-piece orchestra turned the first-chestnut—"Marche Slav"—to a fine flavor. The final number was "Capriccio Italien," another old war horse, but ridden to new glory by Coleman's charges.

The real stars were the young artists: pianist Janet Belle Wood and singers Daniel Caruso, Eleanor Fortenberry, who is Miss Atlanta, Rex Dantzler, Mary Anne Adams, Mary Noras and Sharon Michael.

FLUTIST SCORES

James Edward Hall, a senior at David T. Howard High School, showed dexterity and talent beyond his years with a flute solo, "Carnival of Venice," which earned him two extra bows from a crowd that nearly filled the amphitheater.

Narrator Bob Van Camp gave the concert his usual relaxed and amusing performance.

CHOIR SCHEDULED

The free concerts are sponsored by the City of Atlanta, the Music Performance Trust Fund of the Recording Industries, and the American Federation of Musicians.

Next Friday the Pops will featuure as guest artists the Grace Methodist Choir. Concerts begin at 8:30 p.m.—JACK KAPLAN.

Blanchard Replies to Negro's Suit

Atlanta Ald. T. Wayne Blanchard Friday asked for dismissal of a Negro's suit against him over possession of a residence in southwest Atlanta.

The Negro, Gus Burton, charged that Blanchard got him—an illiterate—to sign a deed in 1957 which he thought was a loan deed and it turned out to be a warranty deed giving Blanchard possession of the property.

Blanchard contended in an answer filed in Fulton Superior Court that Burton agreed to sign the property over to him if Blanchard would pay up the arrears on a loan obtained by Burton. He said Burton also signed a rental agreement on the same property at 1083 Windsor St., SW.

Burton, Blanchard's reply contends, has had since June 13, 1957, to learn that the paper was a warranty deed and could have learned it by "due diligence." He said Burton has paid no rent on the property since Jan. 16 and should be evicted.

Meanwhile, David T. Scott and Arthur Grier, who purchased the property from Blanchard, said Burton refuses to give up the property or to pay rent and is occupying it rent-free. They asked that he be directed to pay rent into the court until the matter is settled.

Lack of Key Skills Blamed On White Collar Complex

A Missouri educator criticized here Friday a "white collar complex" which he said causes young people and adults to shun real opportunities in the labor market in search of an occupational Utopia.

Dr. H. H. London, past president of the American Vocational Assn. and a member of the University of Missouri faculty, told the Georgia Vocational Assn., Friday that the "complex" is one of the major reasons for the current imbalance in America's labor supply and demand.

He cited a recent Department of Labor report listing 80 jobs essential to the economic welfare of the nation in which there was a substantial shortage of workers and few qualified people in sight to fill them.

"At the same time there were between 4,500,000 and 5,500,000 people unemployed in the nation," he added.

Dr. London said America needs a manpower management program to solve the problem which would involve on the part of the schools testing and classification of students to determine their assets and liabilities as potential workers in the different occupations.

He also said that the educational emphasis should not be centered on the 20 per cent of the population who will fill white collar jobs.

In other business, the GVA elected Mrs. Ellen B. Coody of Atlanta president. Mrs. Vaughn Hood of Sandersville was named president, and J. N. Baker of Swainsboro, Miss Doris Williams of Atlanta, Thomas Poe of Rome, William Glenn of Valdosta and Paul Sewell of Thomasville were elected vice presidents. T. G. Walters of Atlanta was reelected treasurer.

Cripple, 70, Saved From Burning Bed

A retired fire captain late Friday saved the life of an elderly crippled woman who was trapped on her burning bed, police said.

Capt. C. G. Felder, of 188 Poplar Cir., said he detected smoke in the apartment building, investigated and found it to be coming from a basement apartment.

Patrolman W. J. Nelms and M. L. Bedford said Feldr entered the apartment and found Bessie Mozeley, 70, Negro, lying helpless on the bed.

He carried the woman, a cripple, to safety.

Patrolmen said the cause of the mattress fire was not known.
